DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Dacca, the 13th February 1939.

Third and Final Forecast of the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1938-39.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1936-37, the area under winter rice in Bengal has represented some 20·5 per cent. of the total area under winter rice in India.)

Character of the season.—Since the issue of the Second Forecast in December, dry weather has been generally favourable for harvesting operation.

Acreage.—According to District Officers' estimates the total area under winter rice is 15,835,900 acres as compared with 15,922,500 acres of last year.

Outturn.—From the summary of the district returns appended, it will be seen that two districts report a bumper crop, two districts a normal crop, 11 districts a crop varying from 83 to 92 per cent. and the rest below 80 per cent. of the normal. According to the above estimates, the provincial outturn works out to 82 per cent. of the normal as against 94 per cent. of last year.

Accepting 82 per cent. as the Provincial outturn, the gross yield of the crop, on the basis of a normal yield of 12½ maunds of clean rice (husked) per acre, is estimated at 5,962,700 tons this year as against 6,872,700 tons in last year.

(2) For the purpose of this rule, "vessel" does not include a steam-vessel to which the provisions of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1917 (I of 1917), apply, but includes a barge or boat atttached to such a steam-vessel whether in motion or moored.

Note.—The rules concerning lights made under section 52 of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1917 (I of 1917), shall apply to all such steam-vessels in motion in the khal between sunset and sunrise.

3. At places where mooring posts have been provided by the Supervisor, vessels desiring to moor shall be made fast in a single line along the banks to such posts in such manner as the Supervisor may direct and shall not be moored in any other manner.

4. No vessel shall be placed in such a position or navigated in such a way as to endanger the safety or obstruct the passage of other vessels.

No. 6-I.—19th February 1939.—It is hereby notified for general information that in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), and in supersession of notification No. 17-I., dated the 16th September 1930, the Governor intends to make the following rules and fix the following rates of tolls for the line of navigation known as the Roypasa-Nathullabad-Jail Khal in the district of Bakarganj and as defined in notifications No. 9-I., dated 22nd July 1930, and No. 3-I., dated the 19th February 1939.

2. Any objection or suggestion with respect to the said rules and rates of tolls should reach the undersigned before the 7th April 1939.

Rules and Rates of Tolls.

1. Every vessel on entering the channel and before passing the gate at either end or even when entering the channel from a side khal between the gates shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable; in case of any reasonable doubt arising, a vessel may be measured again by any person appointed by the District Board of Bakarganj on this behalf.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall be divided into two classes as below:—

Class I—To include all vessels of the types of country boats, including saltees and hapors (fish cages), house boats, Kosh boats, green boats and other similar types of boats.

Class II—To include steam boats, motor boats, flats and barges and other square built vessels.

3. The maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty shall, for the purpose of the Canals Act, 1864, and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

Class I.

A. The product of one quarter of the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water-line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water-line to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches; the measurement of breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C. The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 12½ maunds, any remainder of less than 12½ maunds being rejected. In the case of vessels exceeding 500 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D. Saltees.—The product of one quarter of the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the greatest depth measured from the top to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

Class II.

For vessels of class II the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for vessels of class I shall be increased by one-half. For vessels of this class above 5,000 maunds measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 500 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 500 maunds. In the case of steamers and motor boats the maundage determined as above shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance of engine space.

For vessels of class II which are furnished with reliable way bills, the gross maundage of cargo shown by the way bills or in the case of steamers, the maundage obtained from multiplying the registered tonnage of the steamer by 27, may, at the option of the employer of the vessel or the steamer (as the case may be) be taken as the maundage on which tolls will be charged.

4. After the measurement the person in charge of the vessel shall be provided with a slip showing the maundage to be charged, which shall be presented at the toll office where he will be provided with a ticket, after payment of toll, which will permit the vessel to pass the gate or proceed through the channel.

5. Every ticket shall have entered on it the name of the serang, manjee or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage, the cargo, the amount of toll charged and the number of days for which the ticket remains current.

6. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll office before a vessel is permitted to proceed.

7. The ticket shall be kept on board the vessel and in possession of the person in charge of the vessel and shall be produced for inspection when demanded by the person authorised to collect tolls, or by any officer to whom such person is subordinate. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage as provided in rules 3 and 12 and shall require payment of toll, and unless and until the toll is paid, or the original ticket or a duplicate is produced as evidence that toll has already been paid, the vessel shall be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act.

8. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the collector of tolls on payment of a fee equal to one-quarter of the total tollage, subject to a minimum fee of one anna per ticket.

9. All vessels, whether the property of Crown, of District Board, or other local bodies or of private persons, are liable for toll except those specially exempted under these rules or by a resolution passed by the district board of Bakarganj from time to time.

10. The canal may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to it on seven days' notice of the intention so to close it being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency the canal may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

11. No rafts exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth shall be permitted to enter the canals.

12. The rate of toll shall be as follows:—

(1) On all vessels empty or laden per hundred maunds—Twelve annas.

(2) On all vessels empty or laden, for 12½ maunds or less—One anna six pies.

(3) On rafts of bamboos, grass, timber or other similar articles, not exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth—Six annas each raft.

Tolls shall be levied at Barisal or at Amanotganj near Barisal Chowk Bazar, at Kawnia near old cremation ground (at the west end of Jail khal), at Defulia near Baniakati bridge and at North Karapur (Bagadhi) at the west end.

13. For boats frequently using the canal, such as boats carrying passengers, grass or perishable articles monthly tickets will be issued at 10 times the ordinary toll.

14. Every vessel which has paid toll shall be allowed to remain in the canal for three days inclusive of the days of entry into and leaving the canal. A vessel remaining in any part of the canal longer than three days shall be charged demurrage equal to one half of the toll for each day in excess of three days. No vessel shall be permitted to remain in the canal for more than one month, i.e., provided that this rule shall not apply to vessels holding monthly tickets under rule 13, which may remain in the canal for more than three days without payment of demurrage but not for more than one month at a time.

15. No vessel carrying exclusively police officers or servants, soldiers and officers of the British Army, post mail runners, officers of the Irrigation Department on duty, officers and servants of the toll office for the canal referred to in these rules while on duty, shall be liable for toll in the canal.

16. Any matter relating to the mode of collection of tolls and other relevant points, not provided for in these rules, shall be decided by the district board of Bakarganj at a meeting and such decision shall be subject to the approval of the Provincial Government.

By order of the Governor,

J. R. BLAIR,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

49. Supply of gas-masks and arrangements at surface.—If the manager considers it necessary for safety, persons engaged in dealing with a fire shall be equipped with gas-masks and a rescue brigade equipped with apparatus shall be maintained on the surface in case of necessity.

50. Test of apparatus.—Before proceeding underground the leader shall test, or witness the testing of, all rescue apparatus of the brigade. He shall check the equipment of his party, and, immediately before entering irrespirable air, shall make sure that all apparatus is working properly:

Provided that if the leader and the manager of the mine consider that in order to save life the brigade should proceed at once into the mine, this test may be dispensed with if the apparatus has previously been tested at a Rescue Station.

51. Duties of leader underground.—(1) If the atmosphere is clear, the leader shall, when passing the junction of two or more roads, clearly indicate the route by means of arrow-marks in chalk. If the atmosphere is obscure the leader shall see that a life-line is led in from fresh air, and shall not allow any member of the brigade to move out of reach of that line; or, if that course is impracticable, he shall not proceed until every road branching from the route is fenced across the opening.

(2) The leader shall keep the team together and shall not allow any member of the team to stray.

(3) When using rescue apparatus the leader shall carry a watch, shall read the pressure of the compressed oxygen every 20 minutes or thereabouts, and shall commence the return journey in ample time. In travelling he shall adapt the rate to that of the slowest member. If any member of the corps or brigade is in distress, he shall immediately return to the fresh air base with the whole brigade.

(4) The leader shall not permit any corps or brigade using breathing apparatus in a mine to remain at work for longer than 1½ hours at any one time.

52. Duties of members of rescue brigades.—Every member of a rescue corps or brigade engaged in work with breathing apparatus in a mine shall obey the orders of the leader of the team.

53. Travelling with rescue apparatus.—In travelling with rescue apparatus, each member of the brigade shall keep the place given him when numbering off. If the pace is too quick, or if distress is felt, the member shall at once call attention to the fact.

54. Restriction on second spell of work.—No person shall commence a second or subsequent spell of work in noxious air without being examined and passed by a qualified medical practitioner, if present, or by the Rescue Station Superintendent or other competent person if a qualified practitioner be not present.

55. Code of signals.—Members of rescue corps or brigades shall, in general, use the signals prescribed in Schedule VI to these rules, in communicating to one another.

SCHEDULE I.

[See Rule 32 (1).]

Apparatus and Equipment.

Minimum to be kept at each Rescue Station.—(i) Twenty-four complete suits of breathing apparatus, with means of supplying sufficient oxygen or liquid air to enable such apparatus to be constantly used for two days, and of charging such apparatus.

If the type of apparatus admits of it, one set of apparatus in every four shall be provided with an attachment for supplying oxygen or air to any person found overcome by noxious gases in a mine.

(ii) Four smoke helmets or other apparatus serving the same purpose with not less than 120 feet of tubing for each.

(iii) Twenty electric safety lamps or electric torches of a type approved by the Chief Inspector; and 100 approved flame safety lamps.

Breathing Apparatus: Adjustment and tests.

1. In every breathing apparatus which is arranged so as to give a uniform oxygen delivery, the reducing valve shall be so adjusted as to supply not less than two litres of oxygen per minute.

2. Every breathing apparatus shall be thoroughly tested at least once a month in the following manner, and the results of the test giving such particulars as the Chief Inspector by order in writing may specify in this behalf shall be recorded:—

(i) The apparatus shall be carefully examined in respect of its general condition and particular attention shall be given to any delicate and perishable parts.

(ii) The apparatus shall be tested for leakage by completely immersing it in water. For the purpose of this test the apparatus shall be fully distended and if it is a compressed oxygen apparatus the oxygen supply shall be turned on. The apparatus, immersed in water, shall be well shaken and closely examined in every part for leakage by the Superintendent or one of the instructors of the Rescue Station, or by the captain of the rescue brigade. If any leakage is observed the apparatus shall be deemed unsafe for use.

This test may be omitted in respect of the pact of a liquid air apparatus in so far as it would be damaged by immersion.

(iii) The pressure at which any automatic relief valve discharges shall be measured.

3. The following additional tests shall be applied to compressed oxygen apparatus:—

(i) The pressure in the oxygen cylinder shall be measured.

(ii) The rate of delivery of oxygen shall be measured by a flow-meter and if that rate is capable of being adjusted by the wearer of the apparatus, it shall be measured over the whole range of adjustment.

4. No breathing apparatus shall be used underground unless immediately before use it has been tested and found safe in the manner prescribed by paragraph (ii) of clause 2 of this Schedule:

Provided that as a matter of urgency to save life, this test may be omitted and a test for leakage by mouth suction applied instead.

5. The oxygen in every cylinder supplied for use in connection with breathing apparatus shall be analysed before being used in a breathing apparatus, and no oxygen which is found to contain more than two per cent. of impurities shall be used. The results of every analysis giving such particulars as the Chief Inspector may require shall be recorded.

6. Flow-meters shall be tested for accuracy at least once in every six months, and the results of every test giving such particulars as the Chief Inspector may require shall be recorded.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNOR GENERAL (PUBLIC).

NOTIFICATION.

New Delhi, the 25th February 1939.

No. 169/39/G. G.—The Governor General has learnt with the most profound regret of the sudden and untimely death of His Excellency the Lord Brabourne. By his passing India has lost a wise and distinguished administrator and her people a well-beloved and trusted friend whose personal charm and sincerity of character had endeared him to all those with whom he came in contact. The universal sorrow with which the news of his death was received and the tributes to his great public virtues which it has evoked are evidence of the admiration with which he was regarded by all classes of people in this country. The years during which he held office in two Provinces were a period of the first importance in the history of India, and his signal contribution to the introduction of provincial autonomy in Bombay, and the success with which the great tradition established by his distinguished predecessor was maintained and developed by Lord Brabourne in Bengal are in no small measure due to the tact, ability and honesty of purpose with which he guided the administration of affairs during his two Governorships. He discharged with conspicuous success for a period of four months the duties of Viceroy and acting Governor General during a time of grave anxiety when the peace of the world was threatened, and brought to that high office the same lofty ideals and qualities of leadership which marked his public career throughout. The Hon'ble Members of the Governor General's Executive Council desire to associate themselves with this expression of deep sorrow at the loss which India has sustained and of appreciation of the great and valuable service which Lord Brabourne had rendered during the period in which he held office in this country.

BENGAL LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 849L.A.—22nd February 1939.—The following report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Money-Lenders Bill, 1938, with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by the Committee, is hereby published for general information.

Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Money-Lenders Bill, 1938.

We, the members of the Select Committee to which the Bengal Money-Lenders Bill, 1938, was referred by a motion carried in the Bengal Legislative Assembly on the 5th August, 1938, have the honour to submit this our final report with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by us annexed. Matters recommended by us to be omitted have been printed in italics and enclosed in square brackets and all new matters recommended to be inserted have been underlined.

2. The Bill was published before introduction in an extraordinary issue of the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 18th July, 1938.

3. The Committee met for the first time on the 11th August, 1938, and continued their sittings till the 13th August, 1938. But as the deliberations could not be finished by the 15th August, 1938, the date appointed in this behalf by the Assembly, the Chairman of the Committee presented an interim report to the House on the said 15th August, 1938, and on the requisition of the Committee the time for submission of the final report was extended by the Assembly till the 31st October, 1938. The Committee could not, however, finish their deliberations even within this extended period and continued their sittings till the 21st December, 1938, with the special permission of the Hon'ble Speaker.

4. The Bill has been substantially altered by our recommendation and we consider that it requires republication.

5. The changes made in the Bill, apart from mere formal and technical alterations, are as follows :—

CHAPTER I.

Clause 2—Sub-clauses (1), (4), (5), (6), (15), (16).—We have omitted the definitions of "Bank", "Company", "Co-operative Society", "Insurance Company", "Proceedings under this Act", "Provident Insurance Society" as we consider these unnecessary in view of alterations suggested by us in the body of the Bill.

We have considered it desirable to insert a definition of "borrower" in sub-clause (1) as this term occurs frequently in the Bill.

Sub-clause (2).—We have revised this, in consonance with the subsequent recommendations in the Bill.

Sub-clause (10).—We have modified the definition of "loan" by excluding advances without interest as we do not consider it desirable to treat such advances as "loan" for the purposes of this Act.

Sub-clause (10)(a).—In modifying this we intended to exclude all kinds of deposits of money or other property, not only in Post Office Savings Banks or with any Banking Company or Co-operative Society but at any place whatsoever, from the category of loan.

Sub-clause (10) (d) and (f).—We have omitted these as we did not consider it advisable to exclude loans to or by Banks, etc., or mercantile loans from the purview of this Act. Our intention in making this amendment was also to control the Banks and mercantile loans and restrict flow of money from rural areas to Banking concerns and mercantile centres.

The explanations under this sub-clause have been omitted as unnecessary.

Sub-clause (19)(a).—The alterations here are consequential on our subsequent recommendation in the Bill.

CHAPTER II.

We found it desirable to have this chapter redrafted on account of material and extensive changes recommended by us. Our recommendation for elimination of different classes of licences for money-lenders as contemplated in the original Bill has necessitated a revised definition of Competent Courts. We have thought it preferable to let the Court of Small Causes, Calcutta, have original jurisdiction over proceedings under clause 14 of this Bill in relation to cases arising in Calcutta and have provided for appeal from its decisions to the High Court. The District Judge's was considered by us to be the most suitable Court for cases arising outside Calcutta either for disposal by itself or for transferring them to suitable subordinate courts for such disposal. We have provided for appeal from decisions of the Mufassil Courts in accordance with the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code. We have also extended the application of section 24 of the Code of Civil Procedure for cases coming under this Act.

CHAPTER III.

This chapter has, for similar reasons, been redrafted and the following alterations have been made in the clauses :—

Clause 5 has been omitted as unnecessary.

Clause 6 has been expanded and we have found it desirable to provide for appointment of Sub-Registrars of money-lenders in addition to the Provincial Registrar and Registrars.

The proviso has been inserted to avoid additional expenditure on account of these officers as far as is practicable.

Clause 8.—The alteration here has been necessitated by our recommendation in the subsequent clauses.

Clause 9.—We considered it undesirable to have different classifications for licences of money-lenders either on the basis of area or pecuniary limit of their business, as we thought that this might lead to complications and administrative inconvenience and have therefore provided for only one class of licence for the Province which should be renewable at the end of every three years.

Clause 9A is practically the original schedule to the Bill modified in consequence of our recommendation in clause 9. We consider a fee of Rs. 15 adequate for a triennial licence. In the proviso we have considered it advisable to allow the Provincial Government a discretionary power in reducing licence fees in appropriate cases or classes of cases.

Clauses 10, 11 and 12.—The amendments here are of a consequential nature. We have made it incumbent on the Court to penalise the money-lender who has not taken a licence instead of leaving it to its discretion.

Clauses 12A and 12B.—In these new clauses we have provided specifically for the disqualifications for holding a licence and also the method for proving such disqualifications. Our object here was to clarify the intention and simplify the procedure.

Clause 13.—This clause has been recast and expanded to make the provision for refusal of licence unambiguous. We have also made more exhaustive provision for appeals and revisions against orders of such refusal. We have considered it desirable to leave the procedure with regard to these matters to be prescribed by rules.

Clauses 13A and 13B.—These new clauses have been found necessary as we thought that the Sub-Registrars should have the power to cancel licences and as it would be impossible for them to function properly without requisite powers for compelling the attendance of witnesses.

Clause 14.—We did not think that any borrower, placed as they are under the clutches of the money-lenders, would make any frivolous complaints. We did not therefore consider it proper to put any obstacle on their path in making applications against undesirable money-lenders and have therefore omitted the restrictions.

Clause 15.—This clause has been recast and expanded. This provision about cancellation of licences including the procedure, extent of penalty and appeals have been clearly provided in the modified clause.

Clause 17 has been omitted as unnecessary.

CHAPTER IV.

Clause 20.—(1) We considered it essential that all accounts of money-lenders carrying on business in Bengal including receipts should be kept in the language of the province and have amended the clause accordingly.

(2) We have slightly amended this sub-clause providing for delivery of statements or receipts as soon as a loan is advanced or a payment is made, to avoid any possible difference which may be caused by lapse of time.

Clause 21—Sub-clause (1).—We have recommended that the statement of accounts must be submitted in Bengali in the spirit of earlier recommendations.

Sub-clause (1) (a) (a).—This is intended to cover cases of continuous transactions.

Sub-clause (2).—We did not consider it proper for the lender to charge any fees from the borrower for supplying him with statements which the latter can reasonably demand. The proviso to this has been inserted as we thought this would avoid too frequent demands for statements.

Sub-clause (3) has been amended by omission of "fees" and also by providing that the borrower should get copies only of documents evidencing the loan but not of any other document or security connected with it. Here again a proviso has been added to put a check on unnecessary demands.

Sub-clause (4).—We have thought fit for the convenience of the people of the province to define "year" as the Bengali year.

Clause 24.—We did not consider it expedient or desirable to give the Provincial Government any power as contemplated by the original clause and have therefore omitted it. Our intention was to bring all classes of lenders or money-lenders under uniform treatment.

CHAPTER V.

Clause 25.—We have considered the provision for indemnity in sub-clause (1) as an inadequate penalty against the defaulter and have provided for imprisonment and fine as more appropriate. In the new sub-clause (3) we have made the meaning of "assignment" clear.

Clause 26.—We have inserted "lenders" in this clause for obvious reasons.

Clause 27 has been omitted as unnecessary.

CHAPTER VI.

Clauses 28, 29 and 30.—These clauses have been redrafted and our recommendations in this connection have been embodied in the new clauses 28 and 29. In these new clauses we have considered it desirable to provide that the lender should on no account recover more than the original loan as interest. We have further provided that when part of the principal has been paid, the interest on the balance should never exceed the amount of such unrealised balance. We have recommended total abolition of compound interest and have found it extremely desirable to reduce the maximum rate of interest recoverable to 8 per cent. per annum for secured and 10 per cent. per annum for unsecured loans irrespective of whether such interest accrues before or after the commencement of this Act. We have further thought it desirable not to allow any interest after a decree is passed in any suit to which this Act applies, as our intention was to avoid interest on any interest on any form whatsoever.

Clause 31.—The words "of interest" have been omitted to include assessment of principal as well.

Clause 32.—We have omitted the proviso as this might lead to undesirable results and may be an instrument of unreasonable exactions by the money-lenders, who should, in our opinion, be prepared to incur all such reasonable expenditure when he lends money on interest.

CHAPTER VII.

Clause 33.—Our recommendations regarding instalments have been elaborately embodied in the redraft of this clause. In giving detailed directions our intention was to give the debtors all reasonable facilities in repaying their debt.

Clause 34.—This clause has been expanded and redrafted giving the Courts more power than was originally intended. We have thought it expedient to permit reopening of all transactions in connection with money-lending unreasonably closed or adjusted for a period of twelve years previous to the passing of this Act, as in our view a period of three years as originally provided would not meet the ends of justice.

We have however, given the Courts power to re-open decrees only when passed between the 1st January, 1939 and the date when this Bill passes into law and to order refund in cases of payments made in excess of the rates provided in this Bill when such payments are made after the 1st January, 1939. Details of procedure in this connection which cover executions, appeals and review have also been specifically provided for to avoid any possible confusion.

Clause 34A.—We have in this new clause provided for exemption of judgment-debtors from arrest and detention in prison as we thought these were undesirable tools in the hands of oppressive money-lenders.

Clause 35—Sub-clause (1).—We have provided the fee in the Bill itself instead of leaving it to be prescribed by rules, over which the Legislature might not have any say.

Sub-clause (3).—This sub-clause has been omitted as we thought it might tempt the money-lender in bringing premature suits.

Clause 36.—In this clause we have omitted the provision for "prescribed fee" for depositing any money tendered to but refused by the lender. The charging of any fee in such cases is bound to result in hardship. The other amendments are of a consequential nature.

Clause 37—Sub-clause (1).—We have included "bond" in this sub-clause as this is one of the commonest kind of instruments which form the basis of loans.

Sub-clause (2).—We thought it desirable to introduce the element of "intention" as otherwise bona fide mistakes might come under the mischief of this clause. For deliberate misrepresentations we have thought it fit to make the section more stringent and have provided for the penalty of imprisonment in addition to fine.

Clause 37A.—This new clause has been provided as a safeguard against default in passing of the full consideration on a registered document. As the parties would at some stage appear before a registering officer, there can be no difficulty if the consideration passes in his presence.

Clause 37B.—We thought that the provisions of Chapters III and IV would lead to various complications if applied to "commercial loans" as we have defined, and have therefore specifically excluded the operation of those chapters on such loans.

Clause 38.—We considered the original provisions regarding penalty inadequate and have raised both fine and imprisonment to what seemed to us to be justified by the nature of the offence.

Clause 39—Sub-clause (1) has been slightly modified. We did not consider it fair that every adult coparcener should be punishable and have confined the punishment to the Manager only who would be mainly responsible for the mischief. We also thought it expedient to provide for punishment of those only who "knowingly or wilfully" commit or permit any default or contravention. This is intended to disregard bona fide and unintentional mistakes.

Sub-clauses (2) and (3).—These new sub-clauses are intended as safeguards against frivolous complaints.

Sub-clause (4) has been introduced to distinguish offences punishable under this clause from ordinary offences under the Indian Penal Code.

Clause 41.—The amendments in this clause are mostly of a consequential nature and have been made to conform to the altered provisions in the Bill.

THE SCHEDULE.

The original schedule has been omitted in consequence of the amendment in clause 9 and insertion of clause 9A. In the new schedule we have specifically mentioned the offences which in our opinion are sufficient to disqualify a money-lender from holding a licence, in terms of the new clause 12A of the Bill.

Minute of dissent by Maulvi Abdul Bari, M.L.A.

Clause 20.—The proviso to write the cash book, the ledger and the receipt book in Bengali will seriously handicap trade and business and entail serious hardship to the non-Bengali classes such as the Marwaris, the Englishmen and the Urdu-speaking Mussalmans coming from Western India. Every money-lender ought to have the individual liberty of maintaining his records in the language in which he speaks. The proviso to supply copy in Bengali to the borrower ought to be accepted as sufficient safeguard of the interest of the borrower.

The provisions of clause 20(1) is self-contradictory and inconsistent with what follows in clause 21(1) and (2).

Clause 29.—There should be no difference and distinction between loans in kind and loans in cash so far as interest is concerned. The rate of interest whether for loan in kind and in cash should be uniform. If the difference as proposed be maintained, the borrower will be left to the mercy of his merciless creditors to take higher interest as every loan will be shown as a loan in kind.

Clause 34.—The proviso to clause 34 nullifies the effect of the substantial clause 34 and makes nugatory the provisions of clauses 28 and 29. This proviso to clause 34 cuts at the very root of the whole Bill and runs counter to the wishes of the majority of the members of the Assembly.

To extend the operations of this Act to the Co-operative Societies would ring the death-bell of the Co-operative Movement of the province. Apart from commercial business the agriculturists for whose benefit primarily this Act is being enacted will be seriously affected. The sources of money are being already dried up in the mufassil and the winding up of the Co-operative Movement would add to the miseries of the people when they stand urgently in need of money. To bring the Post Office Savings Bank, Bank or Company within the purview of this Act, would in the long run, bring about the ruin of the country because banking and business are really the signs of the prosperity and growth of a country. A distinction ought to be drawn between agricultural and commercial loans.

Minute of dissent by Mr. Mirza Abdul Hafiz, M.L.A.

* * * * * * * * * I reserve the right of moving further amendments in the House as I think right and proper for the good of the indebted province

Sub-clause 2(10)(f).—By the deletion of this sub-clause a loan advanced to be used by the borrower for the purpose of any business or concern relating to trade, commerce and industry has been thought advisable not to be excluded from the purview of this Act in apprehension that if it is excluded then almost every money-lender in order to avoid the stringency of the Money-Lenders Act would persuade rather compel every borrower to give a bond with the stipulation of business concern for whatever purposes it may be at the threatening of not advancing money at all. It is not unnatural and improbable that some money-lenders may not adopt the same obnoxious course to avoid the provision of the Act on the plea of trade, commerce and industry but at the same time, I fear and perhaps rightly fear, that for such inclusion and control of mercantile loans the business of the province cannot but suffer which would be most detrimental to the cause of economical advancement of the country. According to me the gain under the present circumstances which is expected by control of mercantile loans to suppress some obnoxious tactics probably adopted by some law-avoiding money-lenders would be dwindled into naught in comparison with the loss that is apprehended in the business world at large. Of course it may be to a great extent rightly said that the business of the province has already been suffering from heavy indebtedness and if it is brought under the operation of this Act it may be released from the grip of such debt within a very few years after which a steady progress may set in motion in the field of business and many members of the Select Committee had that view in their minds to amend the clause. But still I think that with some restrictions and limitations so that the lenders may be confronted with sufficient checks to adopt such heinous tactics to avoid the Act, bona fide mercantile loans for the purposes of trade, commerce and industry should be excluded from the operation of this Act.

Joint minute of dissent by Mr. C. Morgan, M.L.A., Maharaja Sashi Kanta Acharyya Chowdhury, of Muktagacha, M.L.A., Rai Bahadur Jogesh Chandra Sen, M.L.A., Mr. D. P. Khaitan, M.L.A., and Mr. L. M. Crosfield, M.L.A.

We are of opinion that the Bill is ultra vires of the Provincial Legislature in, inter alia, so far as it affects—

(a) Promissory Notes;

(b) Corporations coming under Article 33 of List I of Schedule VII to the Government of India Act;

(c) Banking coming under Article 38 of List I of Schedule VII to the Government of India Act;

(d) Acts passed by the Central Legislature, e.g., Civil Procedure Code, Contract Act, Transfer of Property Act, etc.

We do not agree with several provisions of the Bill as amended by the Select Committee, inter alia—

(a) the definition of "Loan", particularly as commercial loans, dealings by Banks, etc., and Promissory Notes are not exempted from the operation of the Bill;

(b) the definitions of "money-lender" and "money-lending business", as the same are too wide and should at least be brought into conformity with the British Law on the subject;

(c) the definition of "suit to which this Act applies" in so far as it is made retrospective in effect;

(d) clauses 20 and 21 enforcing that the books of accounts are to be kept and statements are to be delivered in the Bengali language only;

(e) extending the rule of damdupat to apply to interest already paid or included in any decree;

(f) the provisions of clause 28(1)(b);

(g) the maximum rates of interest provided for particularly in so far as they are given retrospective effect;

(h) the application of the maximum rates of interest to commercial loans;

(i) clause 29 disallowing any interest on the decretal amount;

(j) the deletion of the proviso to clause 32;

(k) the provisions of clause 33;

(l) the provisions of clause 34 seeking to extend the provisions of section 3 of the Usurious Loans Act, 1918;

(m) the provisions of clause 34A overriding the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code;

(n) the provisions of clause 36(3) in so far as it enables the borrower to earmark a payment to be on account of principal while interest is due;

(o) the omission of Chapter V from clause 37B, although the Select Committee decided to include that chapter in clause 37B and such decision was never reversed.

We reserve to ourselves the right to move or support any amendments that we consider to be proper.

Minute of dissent by Mr. Monoranjan Banerjee, M.L.A.

Before we proceed to go into the details of our dissent we think we should place on record our disappointment at the failure of our attempts to improve the Bill. The object of the Bill, though not expressly stated, was evidently to provide for strict regulation of the professional money-lenders. So far as that object was concerned we had no difference of opinion. But * * * * * * the majority members of the Committee * * *in their over-jealousness to give relief to the debtors proposed and carried such measures as are likely to cut the root of future money-lending business. There is no gainsaying that the application of the Bengal Agricultural Debtors Act of 1935, while affording some relief to the debtors in so far as their existing debts are concerned, has resulted in drying up all the channels of credit-supply in the mofussil in general and in the rural area in particular. However, the said Act being a temporary measure its effects also were to be temporary. But the Money-Lenders Bill, if passed into law, will be a permanent statute and we expected that the experience of the peoples' representatives in the Select Committee would influence them to so provide in the Bill that the dried channels of credit-supply might be rehabilitated. Unfortunately, the majority * * did not look at the Bill from that point of view. They went further than the authors of the Bengal Agricultural Debtors Act and acted upon an idea that there was no more necessity of any person for incurring any debt. The rates of interest for future loans were not matters of much dispute. There was a general agreement in respect of the rates of interest. But the provisions of clauses 33 and 34 which relate to realisation of debts have been so laid down that every money-lender, whether an individual or a corporate body, will think thrice before lending any money to anybody for any purpose, whether on credit or against security. Where we expected that our experience would influence us to ease the realisation of future debts, the measures that have passed through majority votes have further tightened it. If these measures are passed as law, the prospective borrowers of every section of the society, in whose interest such law is purported to be made, will resent it more than the money-lenders. We raised this alarm in the course of our debate but our voice was whittled down.

Then as regards the realisation of the existing debts, we were in favour of giving the debtors as much relief as was reasonably possible in addition to the relief contemplated by the Bengal Agricultural Debtors Act; but some such provisions have been carried * * * * * * as, when passed into law, may in many cases result in serious loss to innocent money-lenders and in dislocation of trade and industry; even a popular money-lender, who lent the money on small rates of interest within the limits, prescribed by the Bill and whose debtor also was gladly paying the interest, may suddenly find his or her capital on whose interest he or she had been living with his or her children, vanishing all on a sudden, his or her offence being that the debtor was allowed to keep the loan unrepaid for a long time to his own benefit because it was carrying small rates of interest.

Reserving our further comments on the outlook with which the majority of the members of the Committee approached the Bill for a future date and at the proper place, we now note below our dissent from several provisions of the Bill as have emerged out of the Select Committee, inter alia,—

(1) Clause 2.—(a) The definitions contained in sub-clauses (1), (4) and (5) should have been retained.

(b) Sub-clause (10) (f) which exempted commercial loans from the operation of the Bill should have been retained.

(c) Explanations (1), (2) and (3) should have been retained.

(d) The definition of "money-lending business" as contained in sub-clause (12) should have been more clear and definite, so that a friend lending money to a friend for short-time accommodation might not be scared away.

(e) The words "before or" in sub-clause (19) (b) should not have been inserted.

(2) Clause 20.—The money-lenders who transact business in Calcutta and mofussil towns should have been allowed to keep their accounts in Bengali or English.

(3) Clause 21.—Statements by the abovementioned money-lenders should have been allowed to be delivered in English or Bengali as the borrower would desire.

(4) Chapter IV.—Government should have been vested with the power to exempt certain classes of money-lenders from the operations of the provisions of clauses 20 and 23, such as agriculturists who lend money on usufructuary mortgage and widows and orphans whose money-lending business does not exceed three hundred rupees.

(5) Clause 25.—The punishment should have been less severe.

(6) Clause 28.—(a) Sub-clauses (a) and (b) should have exempted loans carrying interest within the limits prescribed in this clause.

(b) In sub-clause (c) (ii) there should have been differentiation between loans secured against immovable property and loans against liquid securities.

(7) Clause 29.—Such a clause should not have found place in the Bill.

(8) Clause 32.—The proviso should have been retained.

(9) Clause 33.—(a) Granting of instalments in decrees should not have been made obligatory by substituting the word "shall" in the place of "may" of the original Bill.

(b) Stopping payment of interest on instalments in mortgage decrees and allowing interest at the rate of three per cent. only on instalment in default could not be supported.

(c) At the time of the preliminary decree in a mortgage suit the Court ordinarily grants some time for payment before the final decree. The Court should have been given wider discretion, but instalments for ten years is not only excessive but out of proportion.

(d) In simple money-decrees, the Court's power to give instalments over a period up to twenty years and the mandate upon the Court to order that in default of payment of one instalment, that instalment only and not the whole amount due shall be recoverable and that too without interest were unsupportable.

(10) Clause 34.—(a) Sub-clause (a) was unsupportable.

(b) Sub-clause (d) should have excluded commercial loans from its operation.

(c) Re-opening of any agreement or adjustment within a period of twelve years was not supportable.

(d) No provision should have been made for refund on interest paid at the rates allowed by law.

(11) Clause 36.—The language of sub-clause (3) should have been clear enough to debar a borrower from earmarking a deposit towards payment of the principal or any part thereof before paying the entire amount of interest due.

(12) Clause 37B.—Chapter V should have been included in sub-clause (1).

(13) Clause 39.—The word "Hindu" in sub-clause (b) was put unnecessarily.

We reserve the right to move or support any amendment to any of the provisions of the Bill, that we consider fit.

We cannot conclude without observing that some provisions of the Bill were ultra vires of the Provincial Legislature * * * * * * * * *.

Joint minute of dissent by Mr. J. C. Gupta, M.L.A., and Mr. S. N. Biswas, M.L.A.

We are of opinion that the Bill as it has emerged out of the Select Committee will fail in its object. The Bill was intended to give protection to helpless borrowers against excessive rate of interest and harassment at the hands of professional money-lenders. But the amendments carried by a majority of votes, we are afraid, will result in the destruction of credit supply altogether, particularly in the rural areas, and will also result in dislocation in trade and industry in the Province.

Some of the members * * * * * openly stated more than once during discussion that we need not be concerned about credit facilities and that the people of Bengal needed no loans or credit-supply in future. It was further said that those who had engaged themselves in money-lending business in the past were all pests of the society and should be wiped out of existence. Owing to prevalence of such sentiments our attempts to ensure the laudable object of the Bill and to improve the Bill failed.

Reserving our further comments on the outlook with which the majority of the members of the Committee approached the Bill for a future date and at the proper place, we now note below our dissent from several provisions of the Bill as have emerged out of the Select Committee, inter alia—

(1) Clause 2.—(a) The definitions contained in sub-clauses (1), (4) and (5) should have been retained.

(c) At the time of the preliminary decree in a mortgage suit the Court ordinarily grants some time for payment before the final decree. The Court should have been given wider discretion to extend that time, but instalments covering six months were not supportable.

(d) In simple money-decrees, the Court's power to give instalments over a period up to twenty years and the mandate upon the court to order that in default of payment of one instalment, that instalment only and not the whole amount due shall be recoverable were unsupportable.

(10) Clause 34.—(a) Sub-clause (a) was unsupportable.

(b) Sub-clause (d) should have excluded commercial loans from its operation.

(d) No provision should have been made for refund of interest paid at the rates allowed by law.

(11) Clause 36.—The language of sub-clause (3) should have been clear enough to debar a borrower from earmarking a deposit towards payment of the principal or any part thereof before paying the entire amount of interest due.

(13) Clause 39.—The word "Hindu" in sub-clause (b) was put unnecessarily.

We reserve the right to move or support any amendment to any of the provisions of the Bill, that we consider fit.

We cannot conclude without observing that some provisions of the Bill were ultra vires of the Provincial Legislature * * * * *.

Minute of dissent by Dr. Nalinaksha Sanyal, M.L.A.

I place on record my emphatic protest against the form in which the Select Committee's Report has been drafted whereby certain supposed convention has been invoked to hide * * * * * the real character of the Report, and I sign the Report subject to the following note of dissent. I do this more as a student of Economics than as a member of a political Party.

The Bill as it has emerged from the Select Committee fails to ensure the maintenance of suitable credit machineries for different classes of the population, particularly, for the agriculturists, and if passed into law, is likely to cause great hardship to the masses, as it is bound to dry up very largely the present sources of credit.

The following points in particular should receive serious consideration:—

(1) The majority of members of the Select Committee have, in my opinion, failed to appreciate the real purpose of a comprehensive legislation relating to money-lenders and the business of money-lending. They have approached the questions mainly from the point of view of an emergency measure calculated to scale down the burden of present indebtedness without due regard to the requirements of rural credit and other credit agencies.

(2) The Report seeks to apply the same set of measures for regulating all classes of credit transactions, agricultural, industrial and commercial, and problems of each of which are widely divergent and demand separate examination.

(3) The dealings of Joint Stock Banks, Insurance Companies, Building Societies, etc., and of Registered Corporations have been subjected to the same restrictive conditions as those of village money-lenders. * * * * *

A legislation of this character should not be proceeded with and public money spent in that connection before taking proper legal advice on such matters.

I reserve my right to move suitable amendments to the Bill in proper time and without prejudice to such a right I propose that the following changes in the various clauses should be made:—

Clause 1, sub-clause (3).—Government should be empowered to bring into force different provisions of the Bill, particularly those mentioned in Chapters 3 and 4 on separate dates as may be found practicable.

Clause 2, sub-clause (10) (f).—This excluding clause defining commercial transactions or any modified form thereof should be retained.

Clause 8.—Add the words "or to the firm, Corporation or joint-family of which he is a member".

Clause 14.—It is unfair and impracticable to insist that all money-lenders in Bengal should write out their accounts in Bengali, much though this would be welcome. It should suffice, if money-lenders are required to supply to the borrower statements in Bengali or in the language of the borrower. This applies also to clause 21.

Clause 24, sub-clause (10) (f).—This should be reinstated.

Clause 25, sub-clause (2).—The punishment provided is much too severe.

Clause 28.—This should be thoroughly recast along following lines:—

(i) clause 28 (a) may be applied to loans used for or in connection with agriculture, but should not apply to commercial loans, building societies' transactions and long term debentures of industrial concerns.

(ii) clause 28 (c) should have a definite date stated, say, 1st January 1939, for the applicability of the new rates and the rates of interest should be such as may be recommended by the Reserve Bank of India from time to time in view of the state of the money market, world economic conditions and the rates prevailing in other Indian provinces, particularly in the adjoining provinces. A differentiation between loan against mortgages of immovable properties and secured loans against movable or readily realisable securities may be made if a lower maximum for the latter group is considered desirable.

Clause 29 should be deleted.

Clause 32.—Proviso should be reinstated.

Clause 33 should be entirely recast as it contains many absurd, unpractical and utterly unfair provisions.

Clause 34.—The provision for re-opening past transactions and for refunding excess payment should be left entirely in the discretion of the Court where a prima facie case of unconscionable and substantially unfair character of a loan has been made out.

Clause 37.—The receipt of blank transfer of shares and such instruments in commercial transactions as securities for loans should not be made illegal and failure to comply with the provisions of clause 37 (1) should not entail such stringent punishment as in clause 37 (3).

Minute of dissent by Babu Kshetra Nath Singha, M.L.A.

1. I like to dissent in the provisions to include the commercial transactions within the purview of the Bill. My opinion is this that the world is fast approaching to economic revolution. While other countries are adopting a monopolistic principle and trying to be self-sufficient in their trade, industry and commerce, Bengal with her huge raw materials, should not lag behind and put obstructions to the free growth of her infant trade, industry and commerce and be at the kind mercy of foreign competition to the utter ruin and devastation of her home products.

2. In clause 36 (3) interest shall cease from the date of deposit to save the lender from harassment and uncertainty of date of service.

Minute of dissent by Maulvi Abdul Latif Biswas, M.L.A.

Clause 8.—In this clause provision has been made to the effect that no money-lender shall carry on the business of money-lending unless he holds an effective licence after such date, not less than six months after the commencement of this Act, as the Provincial Government shall, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint in this behalf. So the virtual effect of this provision is that Government will be at liberty not to appoint any such date for any length of time and the only restriction put upon the Government is that the Government is not entitled to fix up date within six months after the commencement of this Act. And if the Government desires it may fix up such date after two, three, six or twelve years or more. We have seen in our practical experience that some good laws or Acts have been proved to be ineffective and dead letters owing to the fact that no restriction was placed upon the Government as to the time within which those laws or Acts were to be put in force. It may so happen that many forces strong in their nature may work in such a way as to prevent the Government from putting these provisions into effect if no time limit is provided for the purpose. That is why I am of opinion that without giving the Government long rope it should be provided that the Government must enforce these provisions within a particular time, so that the provision, very salutary in effect, may not prove fruitless or dead letter for want of such restriction. So it is my proposal that the words "after such date not less than six months after the commencement of this Act" be substituted by the words "after such date not more than one year after the commencement of this Act".

Joint minute of dissent by Maulvi Md. Israil, M.L.A., Maulvi Mohammed Mozammel Huq, M.L.A., Maulvi Aftab Hosain Joardar, M.L.A., Mr. Fazlur Rahman, M.L.A. (Mymensingh), Khan Sahib Maulvi Syed Md. Afzal, M.L.A., Mr. Ahmed Hossain, M.L.A., Mr. Shah Syed Golam Sarwar Hossaini, M.L.A., and Maulvi Rajibuddin Tarafdar, M.L.A.

The rate of interest specified in clause 28, sub-clause (c) (i) and (ii) should, in our opinion, be 9 per cent. and 6 per cent. per annum in place of the rates proposed in the Bill, because the proposed rates of interest appear to us to be excessive in view of the impoverished condition of the debtors due to economic depression and other natural calamities that have befallen them.

The Bengal Money-lenders Bill, [1938.] 1939.

(Chapter III.—Registration and Licensing of Money-lenders. —Clause 12.)

(3) (i) If at any time during a year for which a licence has been granted, a Registrar has reason to believe—

(a) that a money-lender has engaged in the business of money-lending in any area for which he has not been granted a licence, or

(b) in respect of a money-lender to whom a second or third class Calcutta licence has been granted, that such money-lender has invested more than ten thousand rupees or five thousand rupees respectively during the year, he may, after summary inquiry, determine the amount or additional amount, if any, of licence duty which the money-lender is liable, in accordance with the rates specified in the schedule, to pay and may recover the same from the money-lender together with such penalty as he thinks fit, not exceeding three times the amount of licence duty found to be payable:

Provided that if the Registrar has reason to believe that the money-lender has been engaged in the business of money-lending in an area for which he is not competent to grant a licence, he shall forward the case to the prescribed Registrar who shall deal with the case in the manner provided in this sub-section.

(ii) When the sums payable under clause (i) have been paid, the Registrar may, unless he has reasons for passing an order under section 13, enter the name of the money-lender in the appropriate register and grant the money-lender a licence, or in cases referred to in sub-clause (b) of clause (i), correct the register and convert the licence.

(4) For the purpose of inquiries under this section and under sub-section (2) of section 9, a Registrar shall have and may exercise the same powers as are vested in a Civil Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, in respect of— [Act V of 1908.]

(a) enforcing the attendance of any person and examining him on oath;

(b) compelling the production of documents, including books of account;

(c) issuing commissions for the examination of witnesses; and

(d) proof of facts by affidavits.

[Stay of suit when money lender does not hold licence.]

12. (1) No Court shall pass a decree or order in favour of a money-lender in any suit to which this Act applies and which has been instituted by a money-lender, unless the Court is satisfied that at the time or times when the loan or any part thereof to which the suit relates was advanced, the money-lender held, if so required by this Act, a licence for the appropriate area which was not suspended or cancelled or which had not expired.

(2) If during the trial of a suit to which this Act applies, the Court finds that the money-lender had not held such licence, the Court may, on the application of the money-lender, stay the hearing of the suit and require the money-lender within three months or within such further period as the Court may from time to time see fit to grant to produce a licence on payment to the Registrar of all arrears of licence duty payable by him in accordance with the rates specified in the schedule for the years commencing with the year during which he began his money-lending business or with the date notified under section 8, whichever is later, during which he has continued money-lending business, together with such penalty as the Court thinks fit, not exceeding three times the amount of the said arrears of licence duty.

(3) If the money-lender fails to produce the licence within the period allowed under sub-section (2), the Court shall dismiss the suit and inform in the prescribed manner the Registrar of the appropriate area: if the money-lender produces the licence within such period, the Court shall proceed to hear the suit.

(4) The provisions of this section shall apply to a claim for a set off by or on behalf of a money-lender.

(5) In this section and in sub-section (2) of section 11, the expression "money-lender" includes an assignee of a money-lender, if the Court is satisfied that the assignment was made for the purposes of avoiding the payment of licence duty and penalty which may be ordered to be paid under this section, provided that in lieu of a licence such assignee shall be required to produce a receipt of payment issued by the Registrar of all arrears of licence duty and penalty, if any, ordered to be paid under this section, and the Registrar shall, under sub-section (2) of section 11, grant to such assignee a receipt of payment in lieu of the licence referred to therein.

[Refusal to grant licence.]

13. (1) The grant or conversion of a licence shall not be refused except on one or more of the following grounds, namely :—

(a) that the applicant or any person responsible or proposed to be responsible for the management of the applicant's money-lending business is by order of a Court under this Act disqualified for holding a licence ;

(b) that the applicant has not complied with the provisions of this Act or of the rules made thereunder in respect of an application for the grant of a licence ;

(c) that the applicant has made wilful default in complying with, or knowingly acted in contravention of any requirement of this Act or of the rules made thereunder or of the conditions of a previous licence ;

(d) that the applicant or any person responsible or proposed to be responsible for the management of the applicant's money-lending business has been convicted of an offence under Chapter XVII or sections 465, 477 or 477A of the Indian Penal Code, provided that, having regard to the time which has elapsed since the conviction and the nature of the offence, the Provincial Government may, on application in the prescribed form accompanied by the prescribed fee, exempt any person from the operation of this ground, and on such exemption being granted in respect of any conviction, such conviction shall not be a ground under this section in any future application for the grant of a licence.

[Act XLV of 1860.]

(2) The Registrar refusing a licence under sub-section (1) shall record or cause to be recorded at his dictation a summary of the evidence adduced before him and his reasons for such refusal.

(3) An appeal shall lie from the order of the Registrar refusing a licence to the Competent Court.

[Application for cancellation of licence.]

14. (1) Any person may, on depositing by way of security for such compensation as may be payable under sub-section (2), the sum of fifty rupees, or if such person be a borrower from the money-lender, such sum or two-and-a-half per centum of the principal of his loan, whichever is less, make an application to the Competent Court for the cancellation of the licence issued to a money-lender on the ground that such money-lender has been guilty of any act, conduct or omission

The Bengal Money-lenders Bill, [1938.] 1939.

(Chapter III.—Registration and Licensing of Money-lenders.—Clause 15.)

for which the Registrar may under section 13 refuse the grant of a licence, and on the receipt of such application, the said Court shall hold such inquiry as it deems necessary.

(2) Such Court may direct that any person making an application under this section which is frivolous or vexatious shall pay to the money-lender against whom such application has been made compensation of such amount as the Court considers equitable.

[Court's power to cancel or suspend a licence.]

15. (1) A Competent Court in a proceeding under this Act or a Court trying a suit to which this Act applies or a Court passing an order of conviction upon a money-lender for an offence under this Act, if satisfied that the money-lender has committed such contravention of the provisions of this Act or of the rules made thereunder as, in its opinion, makes him unfit to carry on the business of money-lending—

(a) may order all licences held by such money-lender to be suspended for such period as the Court may think fit, or to be cancelled,

(b) may also declare such money-lender or any person responsible for the management of his money-lending business or both disqualified from holding a licence of any description for such period as the Court may think fit, and

(c) shall cause the particulars of the conviction, if any, and of any order passed by the Court under this sub-section to be endorsed on the licence or licences held by the money-lender or by any other person affected by such order:

Part II—Building-sites.

Certificate by Engineer as to site.

2. (1) No place shall be used as a site for the erection or re-erection of a masonry or framed building, or a hut unless the Municipal Engineer certifies—

(b) that, in his opinion, if the site be built upon as proposed, the stability or security of any hillside or bank or any immovable property thereon would not be threatened by the building or could be made secure by the addition of protective works.

(2) If the said Engineer certifies that the site is not secure as aforesaid, or that the stability or security of any hillside, bank or property would be threatened by the proposed building, or that the addition of protective works is necessary, and if the Commissioners consider that the site ought nevertheless to be approved and permission to execute the work to be granted or that the said protective works need not be added, the Commissioners shall refer the matter to the Engineer appointed under section 494 and shall deal with the application in accordance with his decision.

(3) If protective works have to be added as aforesaid to any site, permission to execute the work shall not be granted until the necessary protective works have been constructed and have received the written approval of the Commissioners.

Height of building.

8. (1) Except in special sites where, in the opinion of the Commissioners, the conditions are such that the provisions of this rule may be relaxed, the height of a building shall be regulated by the width of the surrounding open space in the same holding plus the width of the road or roads, if any, in the following manner, namely:—

(i) if such width in any direction be twenty feet or less the height of the building shall not exceed fourteen feet in that direction;

(2) The height from the bottom of such footings to the base of each wall must be at least two-thirds of the thickness of the wall at its base.

(3) Except where the foundation is a rock, the bottom of such footings shall not be less than three feet below the ground level.

(4) When a wall is built on rock, footings may be omitted if the surface of the rock is properly cleaned and stepped to receive the first course of masonry.

Provided that if any of the cross-walls in either of the said storeys are intended for partitions only and do not support any wall in the storey above, they may be built of planked timber framing.

(3) The external and cross-walls of the top-most storey of a masonry or framed building of three storeys must be built of timber, or iron, or ferro-concrete framing, covered with corrugated or plain iron or planked.

Party-walls.

15. The party-walls of a masonry or framed building must be built of stone or brick bedded in lime or cement mortar for their full height; and, if the Commissioners so direct, must be carried up, of a thickness of not less than nine inches, above the roof, flat or gutter to such a height as will give a distance of at least eighteen inches measured at right angles to the slope of the roof above the highest part of the roof, flat or gutter.

Damp-proof course.

16. (1) Every wall of a masonry or framed building must have a damp-proof course at or above the level of the ground floor.

Beams and girders.

19. (1) All beams and girders in a masonry or framed building must be supported by a breadth of stone or other solid substances sufficient to secure their stability. In the case of stone walls, bed plates of steel, stone slabs or concrete slabs are to be provided under the beams to distribute the direct load and guard against crushing.

(2) The bearing of a beam or girder on a wall shall not, without the sanction of the Commissioners, be less than three-fourths of the thickness of the wall.

Iron work.

20. All iron posts, girders or joists or other iron work used for the support of any portion of a masonry or framed building must be of such quality and strength as are approved by the Commissioners.

Repairing, painting or colour-washing any part of a building.

21. If the roof or walls of any building are, in the opinion of the Commissioners, in an unsightly condition they may by written order direct the owner to repair, paint or colour-wash such part of the building as they may direct within a period to be specified in the order.

(4) The external and cross-walls of a ferro-concrete building not carrying any load except its own weight may be built of timber or iron framing covered with corrugated or plain iron sheets, metal lath and plaster, planked or ferro-concrete walling of not less than three inches thick.

(7) The roof of a ferro-concrete building may be of reinforced concrete laid to a fall of at least 1 in 150 and be sufficiently strong to carry a load of 40 lbs. per square foot excluding its own weight. If plain or corrugated iron or lead sheets, slates or tile roofing are used, the rise should in no case be less than one-eighth of the span.

No. 2-I.—4th February 1939.—The following draft of rules, which, in exercise of the power conferred by section 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), the Governor proposes to make for the lines of navigation known as the Gabkhan-Bharani Khal (formerly known as Jhalakati Bharni Khal and Srijug Khal up to and through the new cut near Jhalakati) are hereby published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

II. Any objection or suggestion with respect to the draft rules should reach the undersigned not later than the 31st March 1939:—

Draft rules.

1. In these rules "vessel" does not include dinghis not exceeding twenty feet in length.

2. (1) Every vessel whether travelling or moored in the Gabkhan-Bharani Khal (formerly known as Jhalakati Bharni Khal and Srijug Khal up to and through the new cut near Jhalakati) between sunset and sunrise, shall carry a white light in a lantern on the forepart of such vessel in such a way that it can be distinctly seen from all sides.

(2) For the purpose of this rule, "vessel" does not include a steam-vessel to which the provisions of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1917 (I of 1917), apply, but includes a barge or boat atttached to such a steam-vessel whether in motion or moored.

Note.—The rules concerning lights made under section 52 of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1917 (I of 1917), shall apply to all such steam-vessels in motion in the khal between sunset and sunrise.

3. At places where mooring posts have been provided by the Supervisor, vessels desiring to moor shall be made fast in a single line along the banks to such posts in such manner as the Supervisor may direct and shall not be moored in any other manner.

4. No vessel shall be placed in such a position or navigated in such a way as to endanger the safety or obstruct the passage of other vessels.

5. When a red cone is hoisted at Kowkhali upward bound vessels shall stop and make fast in the side khals or anchor in Kowkhali river clear of entrance to the Gabkhan-Bharani Khal. When a white ball is exhibited, vessels may proceed.

6. When a red cone is hoisted at Kefaitnagore downward bound vessels shall stop until a white ball is exhibited, when they may proceed.

7. At night a red light will take the place of a red cone and two white lights one above the other will take the place of the white ball.

8. All boats, except when crossing the khal, shall travel along the right-hand side.

9. No flat shall be moored in the khal except during the actual loading or unloading of cargo and then as close to the bank as possible.

10. For any infringement of rules 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8 and 9 the person in charge of the vessel or other person at fault shall be punishable with fine not exceeding Rs. 50 and when the infringement is a continuing one with further fine not exceeding Rs. 5 for each day the infringement is continued.

No. 6-I.—19th February 1939.—It is hereby notified for general information that in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), and in supersession of notification No. 17-I., dated the 16th September 1930, the Governor intends to make the following rules and fix the following rates of tolls for the line of navigation known as the Roypasa-Nathullabad-Jail Khal in the district of Bakarganj and as defined in notifications No. 9-I., dated 22nd July 1930, and No. 3-I., dated the 19th February 1939.

2. Any objection or suggestion with respect to the said rules and rates of tolls should reach the undersigned before the 7th April 1939.

Rules and Rates of Tolls.

1. Every vessel on entering the channel and before passing the gate at either end or even when entering the channel from a side khal between the gates shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable; in case of any reasonable doubt arising, a vessel may be measured again by any person appointed by the District Board of Bakarganj on this behalf.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall be divided into two classes as below:—

Class I—To include all vessels of the types of country boats, including saltees and hapors (fish cages), house boats, Kosh boats, green boats and other similar types of boats.

Class II—To include steam boats, motor boats, flats and barges and other square built vessels.

3. The maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty shall, for the purpose of the Canals Act, 1864, and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

Class I.

A. The product of one quarter of the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water-line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water-line to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches; the measurement of breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C. The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 12½ maunds, any remainder of less than 12½ maunds being rejected. In the case of vessels exceeding 500 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D. Saltees.—The product of one quarter of the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the greatest depth measured from the top to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

Class II.

For vessels of class II the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for vessels of class I shall be increased by one-half. For vessels of this class above 5,000 maunds measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 500 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 500 maunds. In the case of steamers and motor boats the maundage determined as above shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance of engine space.

For vessels of class II which are furnished with reliable way bills, the gross maundage of cargo shown by the way bills or in the case of steamers, the maundage obtained from multiplying the registered tonnage of the steamer by 27, may, at the option of the employer of the vessel or the steamer (as the case may be) be taken as the maundage on which tolls will be charged.

4. After the measurement the person in charge of the vessel shall be provided with a slip showing the maundage to be charged, which shall be presented at the toll office where he will be provided with a ticket, after payment of toll, which will permit the vessel to pass the gate or proceed through the channel.

5. Every ticket shall have entered on it the name of the serang, manjee or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage, the cargo, the amount of toll charged and the number of days for which the ticket remains current.

6. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll office before a vessel is permitted to proceed.

7. The ticket shall be kept on board the vessel and in possession of the person in charge of the vessel and shall be produced for inspection when demanded by the person authorised to collect tolls, or by any officer to whom such person is subordinate. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage as provided in rules 3 and 12 and shall require payment of toll, and unless and until the toll is paid, or the original ticket or a duplicate is produced as evidence that toll has already been paid, the vessel shall be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act.

8. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the collector of tolls on payment of a fee equal to one-quarter of the total tollage, subject to a minimum fee of one anna per ticket.

9. All vessels, whether the property of Crown, of District Board, or other local bodies or of private persons, are liable for toll except those specially exempted under these rules or by a resolution passed by the district board of Bakarganj from time to time.

10. The canal may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to it on seven days' notice of the intention so to close it being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency the canal may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

11. No rafts exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth shall be permitted to enter the canals.

12. The rate of toll shall be as follows:—

(1) On all vessels empty or laden per hundred maunds—Twelve annas.

(2) On all vessels empty or laden, for 12½ maunds or less—One anna six pies.

(3) On rafts of bamboos, grass, timber or other similar articles, not exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth—Six annas each raft.

Tolls shall be levied at Barisal or at Amanotganj near Barisal Chowk Bazar, at Kawnia near old cremation ground (at the west end of Jail khal), at Defulia near Baniakati bridge and at North Karapur (Bagadhi) at the west end.

13. For boats frequently using the canal, such as boats carrying passengers, grass or perishable articles monthly tickets will be issued at 10 times the ordinary toll.

14. Every vessel which has paid toll shall be allowed to remain in the canal for three days inclusive of the days of entry into and leaving the canal. A vessel remaining in any part of the canal longer than three days shall be charged demurrage equal to one half of the toll for each day in excess of three days. No vessel shall be permitted to remain in the canal for more than one month, i.e., provided that this rule shall not apply to vessels holding monthly tickets under rule 13, which may remain in the canal for more than three days without payment of demurrage but not for more than one month at a time.

15. No vessel carrying exclusively police officers or servants, soldiers and officers of the British Army, post mail runners, officers of the Irrigation Department on duty, officers and servants of the toll office for the canal referred to in these rules while on duty, shall be liable for toll in the canal.

16. Any matter relating to the mode of collection of tolls and other relevant points, not provided for in these rules, shall be decided by the district board of Bakarganj at a meeting and such decision shall be subject to the approval of the Provincial Government.

K. ALI AFZAL,

Secy. to the Bengal Legislative Assembly
(Returning Officer).

Rules under section 14 of the Durgah Khwaja Saheb Act, 1936 (XXIII of 1936).

1. These rules may be called the Durgah Khwaja Saheb Committee Election Rules, 1938.

2. In these rules, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(i) "the Act" means the Durgah Khwaja Saheb Act, 1936;

(ii) "counting of votes" includes all operations involved in the counting of votes at an election held under these rules;

(iii) "election" means an election under sub-clause (iv) of clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 5 of the Act.

3. The member to be elected under sub-clause (iv) of clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 5 of the Act shall be elected by the Bengal Legislature Constituency and the electoral roll for the said constituency shall be prepared and maintained by the Secretary to the Bengal Legislative Assembly who will act as the Returning Officer for that constituency.

4. Any person may be nominated as a candidate for election subject to the provisions of section 5 of the Act.

5. The Returning Officer shall, subject to the approval of the President of the Bengal Legislative Council and the Speaker of the Bengal Legislative Assembly, appoint a date on or before which nominations of candidates for election are to be made and shall cause such date to be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

6. On or before the date so appointed a nomination paper completed in the form annexed to these rules and subscribed by the candidate himself as assenting to the nomination and by two persons as proposer and seconder whose names are registered on the electoral roll of the constituency together with a declaration that the candidate is a Hanafi Muslim and that he can read and write Urdu shall be delivered at the office of the Returning Officer between the hours of 11 o'clock in the forenoon and 3 o'clock in the afternoon, or shall be sent by registered post so as to reach the Returning Officer not later than 3 p.m. of the date appointed under rule 5.

7. The Returning Officer shall appoint a date for the scrutiny of nominations, and on such date the Returning Officer shall give to the candidates or their representatives all reasonable facilities for examining the nomination papers of all candidates. The Returning Officer shall then examine the nomination papers and shall decide all objections which may be made to any nomination and endorse on each nomination paper his decision accepting or rejecting the same, and if the nomination paper is rejected, record briefly his reasons for such rejection. On completion of the scrutiny of nominations the Returning Officer shall prepare a list of valid nominations.

8. (1) If only one candidate is duly nominated, he shall be declared to be duly elected.

(2) If the number of duly nominated candidates is greater than one, a poll shall be taken and the Returning Officer shall, on or before the date fixed in this behalf by him, send by registered post to each elector a ballot paper, in the form annexed to these rules, together with an intimation of the date appointed by him for the counting of votes and shall enter on the counterfoil of each ballot paper the name of the elector to whom the ballot paper is sent. The ballot paper together with such intimation shall be sent to the address of the elector as shown in the electoral roll of the constituency.

9. An elector shall obtain the attestation of his signature but not of his vote by a Magistrate or a Justice of the Peace or any head of a department under Government to whom he is personally known or to whose satisfaction he has been identified. He shall then if he desires to vote in the election return his ballot paper to the Returning Officer after recording his vote thereon in accordance with the instructions on the ballot paper. The ballot papers which are not received by the Returning Officer before 3 p.m. on the working day preceding the date fixed for the counting of votes shall be rejected.

10. Any ballot paper which is not duly marked, or on which more than one mark is placed against any candidate's name, or on which votes are given to more candidates than one, or on which a mark is placed in such a manner as to make it doubtful to which candidate it has been given, or on which the signature of the elector is not duly attested, shall be invalid.

11. The Returning Officer shall in consultation with the President and the Speaker appoint a date, time and place for the counting of votes and shall give notice thereof in writing to the candidates. On the day and at the time and place so appointed he shall—

(a) after scrutiny, separate or cause to be separated the ballot papers which he deems valid from those which he rejects, endorsing on the latter the word "rejected" and the ground of rejection;

(b) count or cause to be counted the votes given to each candidate, and declare the candidate with the largest number of valid votes to be elected.

12. Where on the counting of votes under rule 11, an equality of votes is found to exist between any candidates and the addition of one vote will entitle any of the candidates to be declared elected, the determination of the person to whom such one additional vote shall be deemed to have been given shall be made by lot to be drawn in the presence of the Returning Officer and in such manner as he may determine.

13. Upon the completion of the counting of votes, the Returning Officer shall prepare and certify a return setting forth—

(i) the number of valid votes given for each candidate;

(ii) the number of votes declared invalid and rejected;

(iii) the name of the person declared elected;

and submit the return to the Government of Bengal in the Education Department for communication to the Hon'ble Chief Commissioner, Ajmer-Marwara.

14. If any difficulty arises as to the holding of any election under the provisions of these rules, or of the Act, the President and the Speaker, acting together, may by order do anything not inconsistent with such provisions which appears to them to be necessary for the proper holding of the election.

15. Subject to the provisions of the Act or of any rules made thereunder relating to the validity of an election, or the decision of election disputes, in so far as they are applicable, all decisions given by the Returning Officer under the powers conferred on him by these rules shall be final.

ESTABLISHMENTS.

New Delhi, the 22nd February 1939.

No. 35/10/39.—In pursuance of clause 4 of the Regulations for admission to the Indian Civil Service by examination in the United Kingdom, and in supersession of the notification of the Government of India in the Home Department, No. F.-266/30-Ests., dated the 21st February 1931, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to prescribe the following instructions for the issue of certificates of nationality and age to candidates for the said examination who are of Indian domicile or descent, and who are not in possession of certificates of birth or of baptismal certificates stating the date of birth, namely:—

Instructions for the issue of certificates of nationality and age to candidates for the Indian Civil Service examination in London who are of Indian domicile or descent.

General.

I. A candidate for the Indian Civil Service examination in London who is of Indian domicile or descent and who is not in possession of a certificate of birth or of a baptismal certificate stating the date of birth, should before leaving India obtain a certificate of nationality and age signed, if he is resident in British India, by the Secretary to Government of the Province, or the Commissioner of the Division within which his family resides; or if he is resident in a State in India, by the highest Political Officer accredited to the State in which his family resides. If the candidate has proceeded to England without obtaining the certificate, the certificate may be granted to his father or guardian, provided that the latter produces the requisite evidence, and when making the application states when the candidate went to England, and where he has been residing during his stay in that country.

II. In order to obtain a certificate a candidate is required, if resident in British India, to prove the date and place of his birth and his nationality before the Magistrate of the District in which his family resides, or, if resident in a State in India, before the Political Officer of the State in which his family resides.

III. A candidate who wishes to obtain a certificate must, if resident in British India, signify to the Secretary to Government of the Province, or the Commissioner of the Division in which his family resides, his desire to compete, not less than three months before the date on which he proposes to go to England. If resident within a State in India, he must signify his desire in like manner to the highest Political Officer accredited to the State within which his family resides. The Officer to whom the application is made shall forward it for the purpose of inquiry to the Magistrate of the District or Political Officer of the State in which the applicant's family resides.

IV. The Magistrate or Political Officer to whom such application has been forwarded shall call upon the candidate to appear and give evidence of the date and place of his birth and of his nationality within one month. He will carefully examine the value of the evidence given, and forward a summary of it, with certified copies of all documents tendered, and his comments and opinion to the Officer who forwarded the application to him for inquiry.

V. The documentary evidence which a candidate may be expected to produce comprises:—

(a) The horoscope.

(b) Family books.

(c) Tradesmen's account books showing entries relating to the birth.

(d) The Matriculation Certificate. If the Matriculation Certificate does not contain sufficient particulars to show that the candidate is qualified by age to enter for the examination, a certificate from the candidate's University or College showing his date of birth as recorded on entering the University or College must also be furnished.

The age of a candidate as recorded on entering his University is regarded as correct unless there is proof to the contrary. If a candidate claims that his age is other than as so recorded he must submit with this application the evidence on which he bases his claim. In such a case the Magistrate or Political Officer will require, among other evidence, a satisfactory explanation of the circumstances in which a wrong age was recorded at the time of entry into the University. He will also require a statement of any attempts made by the candidate to have the University record amended and of the result of such attempts.

Oral testimony of persons acquainted with the candidate's family or otherwise able to give relevant evidence will also be taken; and the candidate is required to comply, to the best of his power, with any requisition the Magistrate or Political Officer, as the case may be, may make in order to clear up any doubt as to the purport of the documentary proof.

VI. Any declaration of age made after the 21st February 1931, on the occasion of seeking admission to any university examination, educational institution, or Government office, or otherwise recorded in a formal and deliberate manner, will be taken as conclusive evidence in disproof of the subsequent assertion by the same person that he is of different age to that so declared or recorded.

VII. Where the date and place of birth have been formally registered in a register kept by any public officer in British India, an extract from the register duly certified by the proper official shall be accepted as sufficient proof of the date and place of the birth.

In the case of a candidate who is a British subject and whose father is alive.

VIII. If the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of the Division, or highest Political Officer accredited to the State, as the case may be, is satisfied by the papers submitted, he will issue a certificate in the following form setting out the nature of the evidence produced by the candidate:—

'I hereby certify that....., who is a candidate for the Indian Civil Service examination in London, has submitted the proofs of his birth detailed below* and has satisfactorily shown that he was actually born on or about the date stated, viz., the..... day of..... 19 , and further I hereby certify that he is a British subject and that his father is a British subject†.

a subject of . . . . . State in India†.'

*(Here enter details.)

In the case of a candidate who is a British subject and whose father is dead.

IX. If the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of the Division, or highest Political Officer accredited to the State, as the case may be, is satisfied by the papers submitted, he will issue a certificate in the following form, setting out the nature of the evidence produced by the candidate:—

'I hereby certify that....., who is a candidate for the Indian Civil Service examination in London, has submitted the proofs of his birth detailed below* and has satisfactorily shown that he was actually born on or about the date stated, viz., the.....day of.....19 , and further, I hereby certify that he is a British subject and that his father was at the time of his death a British subject†.

a subject of.....State in India†.

a person in the permanent service of the Crown†.

a person who had retired from the permanent service of the Crown†.'

*(Here enter details.)

X. If the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of the Division, or highest Political Officer accredited to the State, as the case may be, finds reason to believe that the evidence brought forward is not such as to justify the grant of a certificate in the form set out in paragraph VIII or paragraph IX above, the certificate will be refused.

†Strike out as required.

In the case of a candidate who is a Ruler or a subject of an Indian State.

XI. If the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of the Division, or highest Political Officer accredited to the State as the case may be, is satisfied by the papers submitted that the candidate has stated the date and place of his birth and nationality correctly, he will

(1) forward the papers with his observations, including any as to the nationality of the candidate's father and mother, to the Government of India or to His Excellency the Crown Representative as the case may be who will address the Secretary of State with a view to the necessary declaration of eligibility being issued under sub-section (3) of Section 262 of the Government of India Act, 1935, and

(2) issue to the candidate a certificate in the following form setting out the nature of the evidence produced by the candidate:—

'I hereby certify that....., who is a candidate for the Indian Civil Service examination in London, has submitted the proofs of his birth detailed below* and has satisfactorily shown that he was actually born on or about the date stated, viz., the..... day of.....19 , and further I hereby certify that he is the Ruler† of the . . . . . a subject† State in India.'

Dacca, the 6th March 1939.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Dacca, the 27th February 1939.

Second Forecast of the Spring Oilseed Crops of Bengal, 1938-39.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1936-37 the area under linseed in Bengal has represented some 3·4 per cent. and that of rape and mustard 11·9 per cent. of the total area under these crops in India.)

Character of the season.—As stated in the first forecast issued in December last the weather conditions were generally helpful during the early stage of the growth of the crops. Subsequently drought set in and adversely affected the development of the crops. Some damage also was caused at places by insect-pests. Present condition of the crops is fair on the whole.

Area sown.—Oilseeds are chiefly grown in the Dacca, Rajshahi and Presidency Divisions. In the other two Divisions the cultivation is not extensive. The total area under these crops (excepting sesamum for which separate forecasts are issued) is returned at 987,600 acres this year as against 950,500 and 951,100 acres, respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Outturn.—From the District Officers' estimates the average outturn of the different oilseed crops for the Province works out at 77 per cent. of the normal as against 79 and 80 per cent. reported, respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

M. CARBERY,

The following is a list of the principal appliances now in commission by the Calcutta Fire Brigade:—

Twenty motor Fire Engines as follows:—

Five motor pumps, 500-700 gallons per minute capacity, fitted with telescopic fire escapes (55 feet), etc. (motor pumps Nos. 1, 15, 18, 19 and 20).

The total number of pumping hours at fires during the year was 1,210 hours 50 minutes as compared with 2,280 hours 30 minutes in the previous year.

Fire stations.—Appendix IV gives the number of times each fire station has been turned out in response to fire calls, together with monthly statements.

Staff.—The strength of the Brigade during the year was 274 as detailed below:—

One Chief Officer, 1 Second Officer, 1 Chief Engineer, 5 Station Officers, 8 Engineers, 7 firemen, 1 Warehouse Inspector, 5 clerks, 1 store-keeper, 3 telephone operators, 2 carpenters, 2 lathe mechanics, 1 fitter, 1 blacksmith, 1 tinsmith, 10 Indian drivers, 1 head tindal, 30 tindals, 178 khallasis and 15 menial employees

During the year one Indian was appointed in the rank of the European Firemen and the word "European" has now been deleted.

The conduct and discipline of the staff throughout the year have been exemplary.

Fatalities and accidents.—Appendix VI gives short reports of fires and special occurrences involving loss of life or serious accidents.

The number of lives lost during the year under review is 13 being the same as per previous year.

Nine persons were injured at fires as compared with 7 in the previous year.

I am glad to report that no serious accidents occurred during training recruits, or at drill.

In all cases, where necessary, first-aid was rendered by the Fire Brigade and the injured persons conveyed to hospital by motor ambulances.

Water supply.—In Calcutta water for fire extinguishing is obtained from the unfiltered water-supply system maintained by the Corporation of Calcutta with pumping stations located on the banks of the river Hooghly at Mullick Ghat and Watgunge.

Fires in Cossipore-Chitpore and adjoining areas are dealt with water supplied from ponds or tanks, many of which are replenished only by rainfall. I beg to repeat my previous remarks regarding the condition of water-supply in this area as serious.

In Howrah the condition cannot be described as satisfactory, although the municipality has installed some hydrants on the filtered water supply for being used at fires.

Fire float.—The fire float (5,000 gallons per minute capacity) is stationed on the river opposite the Prinsep's Ghat. During the year under review it has responded to 14 calls as compared with 15 calls in the previous year.

Street fire alarms, telephones and electrical communications.—I am pleased to record my appreciation of the excellent service rendered by the Bengal Telephone Company.

Inspection Department.—The majority of theatres, cinemas and other places of public amusement, with few exceptions, have no serious fire risks and there were no serious fires during the year under review in theatres, cinemas or places of public amusement.

In connection with the Licensed Warehouse and Fire Brigade Act I of 1893, 6,271 inspections of warehouses have been made during the year. Four hundred and thirty-seven applications and complaints have been attended to and disposed of. One hundred and fifty-nine prosecutions were made under section 14 of Act I of 1893 which resulted in 91 persons being fined, the fines aggregating in all Rs. 1,605-8. Thirty-eight persons were warned and discharged and 30 cases were withdrawn.

General.—The Calcutta Fire Brigade protects the city of Calcutta and the municipalities of Howrah and Garden Reach, and may attend fires outside the boundaries of the above, but not exceeding a radius of 6 miles from Fire Brigade Headquarters, provided appliances can be spared, and on payment of a prescribed fee. The total area protected is approximately 112 square miles, comprising a population of over 2,000,000 persons.

Fire Brigade Headquarters is still located in premises rented for that purpose. A scheme for building an up-to-date and efficient headquarters on Free School Street as approved by the Calcutta Corporation, Garden Reach and Howrah Municipalities has now been sanctioned by Government and steps are being taken for building the station.

(2) For the purpose of this rule, "vessel" does not include a steam-vessel to which the provisions of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1917 (I of 1917), apply, but includes a barge or boat atttached to such a steam-vessel whether in motion or moored.

Note.—The rules concerning lights made under section 52 of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1917 (I of 1917), shall apply to all such steam-vessels in motion in the khal between sunset and sunrise.

3. At places where mooring posts have been provided by the Supervisor, vessels desiring to moor shall be made fast in a single line along the banks to such posts in such manner as the Supervisor may direct and shall not be moored in any other manner.

No. 6-I.—19th February 1939.—It is hereby notified for general information that in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), and in supersession of notification No. 17-I., dated the 16th September 1930, the Governor intends to make the following rules and fix the following rates of tolls for the line of navigation known as the Roypasa-Nathullabad-Jail Khal in the district of Bakarganj and as defined in notifications No. 9-I., dated 22nd July 1930, and No. 3-I., dated the 19th February 1939.

2. Any objection or suggestion with respect to the said rules and rates of tolls should reach the undersigned before the 7th April 1939.

Rules and Rates of Tolls.

1. Every vessel on entering the channel and before passing the gate at either end or even when entering the channel from a side khal between the gates shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable; in case of any reasonable doubt arising, a vessel may be measured again by any person appointed by the District Board of Bakarganj on this behalf.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall be divided into two classes as below:—

Class I—To include all vessels of the types of country boats, including saltees and hapors (fish cages), house boats, Kosh boats, green boats and other similar types of boats.

Class II—To include steam boats, motor boats, flats and barges and other square built vessels.

3. The maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty shall, for the purpose of the Canals Act, 1864, and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

Class I.

A. The product of one quarter of the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water-line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water-line to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches; the measurement of breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C. The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 12½ maunds, any remainder of less than 12½ maunds being rejected. In the case of vessels exceeding 500 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D. Saltees.—The product of one quarter of the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the greatest depth measured from the top to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

Class II.

For vessels of class II the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for vessels of class I shall be increased by one-half. For vessels of this class above 5,000 maunds measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 500 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 500 maunds. In the case of steamers and motor boats the maundage determined as above shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance of engine space.

For vessels of class II which are furnished with reliable way bills, the gross maundage of cargo shown by the way bills or in the case of steamers, the maundage obtained from multiplying the registered tonnage of the steamer by 27, may, at the option of the employer of the vessel or the steamer (as the case may be) be taken as the maundage on which tolls will be charged.

4. After the measurement the person in charge of the vessel shall be provided with a slip showing the maundage to be charged, which shall be presented at the toll office where he will be provided with a ticket, after payment of toll, which will permit the vessel to pass the gate or proceed through the channel.

5. Every ticket shall have entered on it the name of the serang, manjee or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage, the cargo, the amount of toll charged and the number of days for which the ticket remains current.

6. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll office before a vessel is permitted to proceed.

7. The ticket shall be kept on board the vessel and in possession of the person in charge of the vessel and shall be produced for inspection when demanded by the person authorised to collect tolls, or by any officer to whom such person is subordinate. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage as provided in rules 3 and 12 and shall require payment of toll, and unless and until the toll is paid, or the original ticket or a duplicate is produced as evidence that toll has already been paid, the vessel shall be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act.

8. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the collector of tolls on payment of a fee equal to one-quarter of the total tollage, subject to a minimum fee of one anna per ticket.

9. All vessels, whether the property of Crown, of District Board, or other local bodies or of private persons, are liable for toll except those specially exempted under these rules or by a resolution passed by the district board of Bakarganj from time to time.

10. The canal may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to it on seven days' notice of the intention so to close it being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency the canal may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

11. No rafts exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth shall be permitted to enter the canals.

12. The rate of toll shall be as follows:—

(1) On all vessels empty or laden per hundred maunds—Twelve annas.

Chittagong Hill-tracts.—No. 2977E.A.—10th March 1939.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 3 of the Chittagong Hill-tracts Loans Regulation, 1938 (Bengal Regulation I of 1938), the Governor is pleased to make the following rules as to the grant of loans under the said Regulation, namely:—

Agricultural Loans.

1. When there is distress due to drought, floods or other calamity, loans for the relief of such distress shall be sanctioned and disbursed with the least possible delay. Loans may also be given to enable the residents of the Chittagong Hill-tracts to purchase seed or cattle.

2. (1) Loans shall be granted only on the joint bond system to groups of plough cultivators or jumias and the amounts granted to each group shall not ordinarily exceed Rs. 200.

(2) Loans for the purchase of seed or cattle shall be given in cash. Other loans shall ordinarily be given in kind though the cash value of the loan will be entered in the bond, but the Deputy Commissioner may, if he thinks fit, in special cases, sanction disbursement of such loans in cash.

3. The Deputy Commissioner may empower revenue officers not below the rank of a Kanungo or Sub-Inspectors of Police to give loans under these rules up to a limit of Rs. 200 in each case, i.e., on one bond provided that the limit of funds at his disposal is not exceeded.

4. (1) The Deputy Commissioner or the Subdivisional Officers acting under his orders shall determine the principles to be followed by officers granting loans as regards the constitution of groups of borrowers, the general range of the amounts to be allotted to individuals in a group and the basis of fixing the amount to be allotted to individuals, e.g., the extent of damage, the area of land cultivated, or the number of dependants to be supported.

(2) It shall be the duty of the Deputy Commissioner or of the Subdivisional Officer, as the case may be, to exercise the closest possible supervision over the work of disbursing officers.

5. The Deputy Commissioner or the Subdivisional Officers acting under his orders shall issue instructions from time to time as to the method of disbursing loans and the execution of bonds which latter shall be in a form approved by the Commissioner and shall contain a clause that the loan is recoverable as a public demand.

6. (1) The Deputy Commissioner shall fix the number of instalments in which the loan shall be repaid and the date on which each instalment shall fall due.

(2) The rate of interest on loans shall be one anna in the rupee or 6¼ per cent. per annum.

(3) In calculating interest a period of half a month or less shall be disregarded and any period exceeding half a month shall be taken as one month.

(4) No instalment shall be allowed to remain unpaid without either a formal order granting the suspension of the instalment, or a certificate being issued for realisation of the arrear.

7. (1) The Deputy Commissioner may grant suspensions of payment of instalments of loans, either by a general order relating to a specific area on account of failure of crops, or any other exceptional calamity, or by special orders, on account of circumstances beyond the control of the borrowers which would render the payment of the instalment unduly burdensome. All such general orders shall be reported to the Commissioner at the time that they are made, and the total sums covered by such special orders shall be reported to the Commissioner at the time of the submission of the annual return.

(2) No interest shall be charged for the period of suspension and the payment of each remaining instalment due in respect of the loan shall be postponed to the date of the next instalment, and a new date fixed for the last instalment.

8. Remission of a loan or of a portion of a loan may be sanctioned only where the recovery of the loan in full would occasion serious hardship. Subject to this, the Deputy Commissioner may grant remission in the case of any one loan up to a limit of Rs. 25, and the Commissioner up to a limit of Rs. 200. Remissiones above this limit shall require the sanction of the Provincial Government.

Land Improvement Loans.

9. The Deputy Commissioner may grant loans for the purpose of making any improvement to any person having a right to make that improvement, or with the consent of that person, to any other person, but for loans exceeding Rs. 1,000 and not exceeding Rs. 5,000 for any one work, the previous sanction of the Commissioner shall be obtained, and for loans exceeding Rs. 5,000 for any one work the previous sanction of the Provincial Government shall be obtained.

10. (1) An application for such loan shall be made to the Subdivisional Officer and shall contain a description of the security which the applicant proposes to offer. On receipt of such application the Subdivisional Officer shall make an inquiry as to the necessity for the improvement for which the loan is applied for and the general condition of the applicant and the sufficiency of the security offered by him. For the purpose of such inquiry the Subdivisional Officer may depute an officer not below the rank of a Kanungo to make local inquiry in regard to the objections, if any, to the proposed improvement.

(2) If the Subdivisional Officer is satisfied after inquiry about the necessity for the proposed improvement and the sufficiency of the security offered, the application shall be forwarded to the Deputy Commissioner with the result of such inquiry and thereupon the Deputy Commissioner shall, unless there is any special reason to the contrary, sanction such loan. An agreement in a form to be approved by the Commissioner shall be executed and registered by the applicant. Each application for loan under this rule shall be treated separately.

(3) Yearly instalments for the repayment of the loan shall be fixed at the harvesting season. Not less than 10 and not more than 15 instalments shall be granted. Interest shall be calculated at 6¼ per cent.

(4) When any instalment of the loan is due, either it shall be repaid or (if circumstances so demand) suspension of its payment shall be allowed or certificate for its realisation shall be filed. The provisions of rule 7 shall apply to the suspension of payment of instalments of such loans.

(5) (i) The risk of the failure of an improvement shall ordinarily be borne by the borrower and remission of principal or of interest or of both may be granted only in cases where a work fails from causes beyond the borrower's control and where recovery of the loan in full would occasion serious hardship.

(ii) Subject to this restriction, the Deputy Commissioner may grant remission in the case of any one loan up to a limit of Rs. 50 and the Commissioner up to a limit of Rs. 500. Applications for the remission of any amount exceeding Rs. 500 shall be submitted to the Provincial Government for orders.

No. 35/5/39.—The following Reports by the Government Actuary on the valuation of the Indian Civil Service Family Pension Scheme as at 31st March 1937 are published for general information:—

A. G. 14708/38.

INDIAN CIVIL SERVICE FAMILY PENSION SCHEME.

REPORT BY THE GOVERNMENT ACTUARY ON THE VALUATION AS AT 31ST MARCH, 1937.

Government Actuary's Department,
20, Great Smith Street.
London, S. W. 1.
28th November, 1938.

THE MOST HON. THE MARQUESS OF ZETLAND,
P.C., G.C.S.I., G.C.I.E.,
Secretary of State for India.

MY LORD MARQUESS,

1. In compliance with instructions received through the Controller of Pension Funds, I have valued the assets and liabilities of the Indian Civil Service Family Pension Scheme as existing at 31st March, 1937.

2. A short explanation, in general terms, of the process of valuation which it has been customary to give in the quinquennial valuation reports, more especially for the benefit of new subscribers, is embodied in the Appendix.

3. Past experience affords the only reliable guide as to the assumptions which are required for the purpose of a valuation and in the case of a Fund of long standing the experience of the Fund itself is naturally taken for this purpose. Hence, as a first step in the work of valuation as at 31st March, 1937, a comparison was made between the experience of the scheme in the 4 years 1933—37 and the "expectation" resulting from the valuation basis compiled for the valuation at 1928 and used also at the valuation in 1933. The results were necessarily obtained according to age, but their general trend will be sufficiently apparent in the following summary. The figures given relate to Europeans only. The Asiatic subscribers constitute a small class, not recruited by new admissions, which has still further diminished and which, though included in the valuation, is not of importance in the present connection.

Experience 1933—37 (Europeans: All ages combined).

	"Expected" numbers on 1928 valuation basis.	Actual members.
Deaths—
Subscribers (active and retired)—
Married	77	74
Unmarried	19	22
Wives	31	27
Widows (including remarried widows) ...	12	11
Sons	7	9
Daughters	8	5

Widows	3	10
Daughters	87	71
Births—
Sons	92	81
Daughters	92	88
Retirements from Service†	196	134*

4. A comparison of this statement with the corresponding statement given in the report of 1933 indicates that, although the experience of the years 1928—33 was very close to the expected, the experience of the later period was in some respects still closer. The present valuation is of special importance in connection with the apportionment of the Fund between those members who have transferred their interests to the Commissioners in Britain and those who elected to continue under the old conditions. A further review was therefore made of the combined experience of the last three valuation periods, which served to confirm the suitability of the present basis. It will be remembered that in the report on the valuation at 31st March, 1933, it was stated that a small margin in the basis had produced a profit in the 5 years of about £100,000. In the later period the corresponding profit emerged at about the same rate. These figures are small in relation to the total liabilities and it is apparent that the margin in the basis is no more than may reasonably and properly be retained in a Fund which is self-supporting and in which the effect of any adverse fluctuation would be borne by the members. Thus the actual financial results amply corroborate the statistical conclusion indicated above.

5. A statement showing the numbers of members (active and retired) and of contingent and incumbent beneficiaries at 1st April, 1933, and of subsequent changes up to 31st March, 1937, is given in Schedule A

*Excluding 20 retirements under the Premature Retirement Rules.
†Membership of the Fund continues.

appended. Separate tabulations were made of the numbers on the la date who have transferred their interests to the Commissioners in Brit and of those who elected to continue under the old conditions. numbers in the two groups (including Asiatics) and in the vari categories on 31st March, 1937, were as follows:—

Subscribers:—

6. The balance of the Fund on 31st March, 1937, as shown by th printed accounts of the year ending on that date, amounted t £4,410,897:9:11. There were however certain sums outstanding, whic had not been included, but which, since they related to the period prio to 31st March, 1937, must be taken into account in arriving at th apportionment of the Fund. These sums represented a net credit o £3,281:18:6, of which all but £16:16:1 had been accounted for b 31st March, 1938. The total capital which has to be apportione between the transferred and untransferred members thus amounts t £4,414,179:8:5.

7. The surplus revealed at the last valutaion would have enable further progress to be made with the stabilization of a portion of th pensions hitherto payable on a temporary basis. But in view of th impending transfer no alteration was made and the pensions continue at the original rates payable from the Fund with:—

(a) a permanent addition of 33⅓ per cent. of the full pension (inclusive of the portion paid by the Government), and

(b) a temporary addition of a further 16⅔ per cent. of the ful pensions, thus making, for the present, a total increase of 50 per cent. on the original pensions. These benefits are modified in the case of those members who, on retirement from the service under the Premature Retirement Rules, elected to take either Option A or Option B

8. The contributions now payable are at a variety of rates, dependent upon the dates of entry of subscribers. Thus, entrants since 31st March, 1928, are paying contributions 12½ per cent. in excess of the original basic rates, other groups are paying basic rates, 12½ per cent. less than basic rates and 25 per cent. less than basic rates.

9. The rates of pension and contributions indicated above have been taken into account in the calculations, for which purpose it has been assumed that the temporary addition to pensions would be continued up to 31st December, 1939. In accordance with instructions, the rate of 4 per cent. has been adopted as the interest basis for the purpose of ascertaining the position of the Fund, on the assumption that the present arrangements continue.

Result of the valuation of the Fund as a whole.

10. The result of the valuation, of which details are given in Schedule B appended, is as follows:—

Present value of—
Contingent pensions	2,904,540
Immediate pensions	1,686,760
Total liabilities ...	4,591,300
Present value of future contributions and donations	613,066
Net liability ...	3,978,234
Capital	4,414,179
Surplus ...	435,945

The last valuation revealed a surplus of £325,768 and it was stated in the report on that valuation that this surplus was sufficient to permit of an increase in the permanent pension of 8⅓ per cent. on the original rates. For reasons set out in paragraph 9 of Circular No. A.G.-2249/36 of 22nd April, 1936, it was felt that practical considerations rendered it necessary to postpone the stabilizing of any further portion of the pension. As a consequence, the temporary increase of 16⅔ per cent. was continued, and it has been assumed for present purposes that this increase will continue up to 31st December, 1939; the effect of this has been to absorb £82,000 of the surplus disclosed by the 1933 valuation, leaving £243,768 carried forward. During the 4 years ended on the valuation date, this sum has been increased by £192,177 to £435,945. Approximately 60 per cent. of the increase has been due to interest on the surplus carried forward, interest on the Fund in excess of 4 per cent. up to 31st December, 1934, and late notifications of marriages of daughters in the preceding valuation period, all of which are in the nature of non-recurring profits. The balance represents the result of deviations from the assumed basis which have already been referred to in paragraph 4.

11. Had the fund continued as an undivided entity the additional surplus which has now emerged would have permitted the stabilization of a somewhat larger proportion of the permanent increase in benefits than that recommended after the valuation of 1933, together with the maintenance for a further period of the full increase of 50 per cent. In the absence of any adverse fluctuations it could reasonably have been anticipated that, with the continuance of the small profits from miscellaneous sources, the relatively small increase in pensions which would still have remained on a temporary basis would probably have been stabilized in the not distant future.

Apportionment of the Fund.

12. In view of the fact that the Fund has now to be apportioned, it is essential that a strictly appropriate share of the Fund, including the surplus, should be transferred to the Commissioners, and since in the past it has been the practice to allot a common percentage increase in pensions without distinction as to age or class, it would appear that the most suitable manner in which to distribute the surplus is to apply the whole of it by way of a hypothetical uniform increase to the permanent scale of benefits. On this basis the apportionment of the total Fund as at 31st March, 1937, is as follows:—

Transferred members	...	£3,384,410:7:5
Untransferred members	...	£1,029,769:1:0
Total Fund	...	£4,414,179:8:5

The total amount to be transferred to the Commissioners as at 31st March, 1937, is thus £3,384,410:7:5. It is to be noted that, in arriving at these figures, allowance has been made for all sums which were outstanding on 31st March, 1937, and that the related payments and receipts after that date should be debited or credited as the case may be to the Indian Government.

13. I proposed to submit, in due course, separate reports dealing with the future position of the transferred and untransferred sections.

I am, my LORD MARQUESS,

Your obedient Servant,

G. S. W. EPPS.

APPENDIX.

THE PROCESS OF VALUATION.

For the information of those who are not familiar with the process of valuation, the following paragraphs indicate briefly what is the nature of this process, particularly in regard to the undertakings of widows' and orphans' pension schemes.

An actuarial valuation consists of an estimation of the present value, on the one hand, of the benefits conferred by the Fund and, on the other hand, of the contributions payable in future, the difference between the two sums being the "net liability" against which assets accumulated out of past contributions (with interest) should be in hand. The comparison then made between the net liability and the actual assets in hand (represented by the balance at credit of the scheme on the valuation date) determines whether the Fund is solvent, and where the assets are the greater of the two amounts the difference represents the amount of the surplus. In estimating the present value of the future benefits and contributions, it is necessary to have regard to a variety of contingencies, including the mortality rates expected to prevail among the subscribers, their wives (or widows) and their children, the probable marriages and remarriages among subscribers, marriages of daughters and remarriages of widows, the probable number of births of children of each sex to subscribers, retirements of subscribers and the rate of interest at which it is assumed that the accumulating funds can be invested. Apart from the rate of interest, all of these elements vary with the ages through which the persons concerned will pass in the future, and at each stage of the calculations appropriate assumptions must be made as to the conditions prevailing during the long period which must elapse until the death of the last surviving beneficiary under engagements entered into with present or former subscribers. These engagements may extend over very many years; to take a simple example, an officer entering at the age of 24 (which is about the average age at entry) may not marry until he is 40 and may leave at his death a spinster daughter born when he was 44 and who lives unmarried and therefore a pensioner to the age of 80. As she was not born until 20 years after her father joined the Service the contract, beginning first with contributions from the member and later taking the form of a pension to the daughter, will have extended over 100 years.

The valuation does not take account of the engagements in respect of officers entering the Service after the date as at which the valuation is made.

THE MOST HON. THE MARQUESS OF ZETLAND,
P.C., G.C.S.I., G.C.I.E.,
Secretary of State for India.

Indian Civil Service Family Pension Scheme Untransferred Section.

MY LORD MARQUESS,

1. In my report on the valuation as at 31st March 1937, of the Indian Civil Service Family Pension Scheme, I showed that the amount of the fund applicable to those subscribers and beneficiaries who elected to continue under existing conditions was £1,029,769-1-0.

2. The valuation, at 4 per cent. interest, of the assets and liabilities in respect of these members, and the position of the untransferred fund, is shown in the following statement corresponding to that given in paragraph 10 of my report on the valuation of the whole fund.

Present value of—
Contingent pensions	482,752
Immediate pensions	573,684
Total liabilities ...	1,056,436
Present value of future contributions and donations	121,657
Net liability ...	934,779
Capital	1,029,769
Surplus ..	94,990

3. The allocation of this surplus on the lines adopted in previous valuations of the whole fund gives the following results:—

A. Increase of stabilized addition to the pensions from 33⅓ per cent. to 43⅓ per cent.	74,010
B. Provision of a further 6⅔ per cent. for the 5 years ending 31st December 1944	11,490
Total ...	85,500

The balance of surplus to be carried forward amounts to £9,490.

4. While therefore the present position is broadly the same as that indicated in paragraph 11 of my report on the valuation of the whole fund, it would appear that the substantially reduced membership consequent upon the transfer, which moreover will not be recruited by new entrants, has introduced greater scope for fluctuations in experience. The point is of importance in connection with the prospective maintenance of the full increase of 50 per cent. in benefits and it must be recognized that a greater degree of caution will have to be exercised when extending the permanent commitments of the Fund.

5. The future is somewhat less secure, but the numbers remaining in the untransferred section and the related resources are sufficient to enable the Fund to continue on a self-supporting basis, for some time at any rate, and there is no present necessity for the Government to take over the Fund and guarantee the benefits on the lines suggested in the circular letter, dated 15th March, 1935. Since, however, there will be no new entrants, the membership will diminish, and it is evident that the stage will be reached, possibly within the next 15 years, when the Fund will no longer be able to maintain an independent existence on a stable basis.

I am, my LORD MARQUESS,

Your obedient Servant,

G. S. W. EPPS,

POLICE.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Detailed scrutiny of the Insurance Act, 1938, has revealed a considerable number of defects of a technical kind which should be removed before the Act is brought into force. It is also desirable to make it clear that insurers who set up organisations outside British India and operate through agents in British India are within the scope of the Act. Further, in view of projected legislation in certain Indian States on lines similar to the Insurance Act, 1938, certain disabilities would be imposed on insurers registered under the Act which would seriously impede the development of their business outside British India. The amending Bill is designed to give relief in such cases without impairing the security for policy-holders in British India. Notes on clauses are appended.

The 31st January, 1939. N. N SIRCAR.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 2.—(a) widens the scope of the definition of "insurer" to bring in insurers who operate from a principal place of business outside British India and who, while it is doubtful if under the existing definition they can be said to be carrying on insurance business in British India, obtain British Indian insurance business by the employment of representatives or by establishing a place of business in British India.

(b) extends the definition to include triple indemnity accident benefits for which some companies provide.

Clause 3.—(a) Section 7(1) (j) of the principal Act was intended to provide for a smaller deposit payable by small concerns carrying on marine insurance in a limited field: as the provision is at present worded, it is capable of the interpretation that it adds to rather than reduces the deposit referred to in section 7 (1) (c). This amendment will remove that ambiguity.

(b) The expression used elsewhere in section 7 is "carried on in British India", and this amendment is made as uniformity is desirable.

(c) When it was found impossible to bring the principal Act into force by the 1st October last, it was realised that section 7 (3) might give rise to a situation in which the second instalment of deposit became payable before the first. This amendment removes that anomaly.

(d) Section 7 (4) is intended to refer to the same category of insurers as section 7 (3), namely, those incorporated or carrying on business before the 27th January 1937, and to qualify, in the case of certain insurers within that category, the concession given by section 7 (3). The present wording of section 7 (4) does not effectively carry out this intention and is accordingly clarified by the amendment proposed.

Clauses 4 and 5.—These clauses insert references to a section inserted in the principal Act during its passage through the Legislature. These amendments and others of similar character appearing later in this Bill are necessary consequences of that insertion.

Clause 6.—Marine insurance is a specialised form of insurance business and there have been found to exist difficulties, both legal and practical, in applying section 46 to such class of insurance business. Moreover it would seem that the reasons which call for amendment to section 46 also operate to render the records required under section 14 of little practical value, and the exclusion of marine insurance business from that section also is consequently proposed.

Clause 7.—(a) provides for certified copies of the second set of statements referred to in section 16 (2) as well as of the first such set.

(b) and (c).—As section 12 does not apply to cases coming under section 16 (2), it is necessary to insert in this sub-section a provision requiring audit.

Clause 8.—(a) The use of the expression "a company incorporated under the Indian Companies Act, 1913" in section 17 and in other places in the principal Act excludes from the scope of those provisions companies incorporated under the earlier Companies Acts of 1866 and 1862. The wording now proposed, already in use in section 11 (2) of the principal Act, will remove this defect.

(b) The wording is revised to follow more closely that of the Indian Companies Act, 1913, to which it is related.

Clause 9.—The principal Act repeals the earlier insurance law, but it is thought necessary to make it clear that the earlier law will continue to apply even after the coming into force of the principal Act to the disposal of accounts for periods which ended before the principal Act comes into operation.

Clause 10.—(a) (i) Vide note on clauses 4 and 5.

(a) (ii) Section 27, as it stands, might be read as permitting the deduction of policy loans which do not relate to policies maturing in India, or which are in excess of the surrender values of the policies: this amendment makes such an interpretation impossible.

(a) (iii) and (b). Where the law of an Indian State requires a cover in respect of life insurance policies maturing for payment in that State (perhaps on a scale equal or greater than that provided in the principal Act, it would be a manifest hardship to require the insurer to make such overlapping cover. The first of these amendments provides relief for insurers registered in British India by arranging that the cover to be made in British India will take into account the cover made elsewhere, but in such a way that the total cover is never less than that required by the principal Act standing alone. The second amendment is consequential upon the first in the sense that it provides that in cases where advantage is taken of this new provision, the liability of the trust in respect of the policies concerned shall be proportionately reduced.

Clause 11.—Section 28, as it stands, is considered to give insufficient time for the submission of the required statements: this is accentuated in cases of companies whose principal place of business is overseas. The amendments proposed will ease the difficulties in this respect without detracting from the purposes of the section.

Clause 12.—(a) Vide note on clauses 4 and 5.

(b) It has come to the notice of Government that some insurance companies keep the bulk of their assets in the name of the Official Trustee, as an additional protection to their policy-holders. The practice is inconsistent with section 31 as it now stands and the proposed amendment is designed to remove the bar to such an arrangement.

Clause 13.—Vide note on clauses 4 and 5. Here the insertion of the omitted reference entails slight rearrangement of the wording.

Clause 14.—(a) The first part of the sub-clause removes the anomaly inherent in requiring notice of a transaction to which he is himself a party to be served on the insurer. The second amendment in the sub-clause is to provide that the insurer (who is to be bound by the transfer or assignment) shall see either the instrument of the transaction or a true copy of it. The third amendment takes into account the new class of insurer introduced by clause 2 of this Bill, and removes redundant words.

(b) Sub-sections (5) and (7) of section 38 are inconsistent in the sense that the latter permits conditional assignments while the former makes no provision for them. The former sub-section is hereby amended to bring it into line with the latter.

(c) removes ambiguity in phrasing, the existing form leaving it doubtful whether "existing prior to the commencement of this Act" qualifies "rights and remedies".

(d) also removes an ambiguity, this time latent in the definition of "policy-holder".

Clause 15.—(a) This amendment is also occasioned by the definition of "policy-holder" and makes it clear that an absolute assignee does not possess the right to nominate.

(b) includes a necessary provision to indemnify the insurer without notice of a revoked nomination where he makes bona fide payments to a nominee in the policy or registered in his books.

(c) adjusts a small drafting defect, the case of revision of nomination by will not being covered by the existing wording.

Clause 16.—(a) and (b) remove matter which in view of the definition of "insurance agent" is superfluous.

(c) The application of the definition of "insurance agent" to section 40 (3) as it stands at present causes a conflict with the intention of the sub-section which the proposed amendment removes.

Clause 17.—Vide note on clause 6.

Clause 18.—There must be circumstances in which the insurer is not in a position to be immediately aware of the maturing of a policy of life insurance: in those circumstances the time provisions in section 47 should run from the receipt of notice of such maturing by the insurer.

Clause 19.—(a) Vide note on clause 8 (a).

(b) Section 48 as it stands fails to make provision for companies taking up life insurance business after the commencement of the principal Act: in such cases it is necessary that time should be given to allow the directorate to obtain the necessary qualifications in the matter of policy-holding.

Clause 20.—The expression "lapsing of a policy" is considered to be too vague and capable of varying interpretation. The section is accordingly revised in the interests of clarity.

Clauses 21 and 22.—Vide note on clauses 4 and 5.

Clause 23—removes a minor defect.

Clause 24—corrects a misprint.

Clauses 25 and 26—are intended to avoid difficulties in applying the principal Act, by making it clear that "year" shall be taken to be the calendar year. Clause 30 has the same end in view.

Clause 27.—Vide note on clause 8 (a).

Clause 28.—Vide note on clause 12 (b).

Clause 29.—Vide note on clause 8 (a).

Clause 30.—Vide note on clauses 25 and 26.

Clause 31—adjusts a drafting flaw.

Clause 32—supplies an omission.

Clause 33.—(a) corrects a misprint.

(b) The insertion is proposed to meet a difficulty which may result from similar legislation in Indian States.

Clause 34.—Provision was overlooked for the commencement of the period of limitation for a suit in respect of a sum payable on a loss, though Article 86 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, refers to such suits.

Clause 35—effects a more accurate form of expression.

Clauses 36 and 37—remove minor errors and inconsistencies and supply minor deficiencies in the Forms contained in the Schedules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Deduction out of royalties on account of stowing.

10. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in the indenture, instrument or deed of lease of the mine the owner or agent of a coal mine shall, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed and with the previous sanction of the Board, be entitled to deduct out of the royalties payable by him in respect of the mine a sum, determined in the prescribed manner, at the rate of half-an-anna per ton of sand or other incombustible material actually used for effective stowing in the mine:

Provided that the deductions under this section shall not in any calendar year exceed ten per centum of the royalties payable in respect of that year.

(b) deductions have been made under section 10 out of royalties, in order to ascertain the amount of sand or other incombustible material used in stowing in the mine or to ensure that stowing has been, or is being, done effectively:

Provided that the power conferred by this sub-section shall not be exercised in such a manner as unreasonably to impede or obstruct the working of the mine.

(3) Without prejudice to the provisions of section 19 of the Indian Mines Act, 1923, the Chief Inspector or any Inspector may, by order in writing addressed to the owner, agent or manager of a coal mine, require him to take such protective measures, including stowing, in the mine as the Chief Inspector or the Inspector may think necessary, if in the opinion of the Chief Inspector or Inspector— IV of 1923.

(b) adequate provision against the outbreak of fire has not been made by providing for the sealing off and isolation of any part of the mine or for restricting the area that might be affected by a fire.

Application of Act IV of 1923.

12. The provisions of sub-sections (3) to (6) (both inclusive) of section 19 of the Indian Mines Act, 1923, shall apply to an order made under sub-section (3) of section 11 of this Act as they apply to an order made under sub-section (2) of section 19 of that Act, and all the provisions of the Indian Mines Act, 1923 (except sub-section (1) of section 11 thereof), affecting committees appointed for the purposes of that Act or relating to the disposal of references made to such committees, shall apply, mutatis mutandis and so far as may be, to a committee appointed to inquire into a reference under this Act and to the disposal of such reference.

Power to make rules.

14. (1) The Central Government may, after previous publication, make rules to carry out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for any or all of the following purposes, namely:—

(a) the nomination, and term of office, of members of the Board appointed or nominated under section 3;

(f) prescribing the manner in which and the conditions under which sums at the credit of the fund may be applied;

(g) prescribing the form in which the accounts of the fund shall be kept and the times at which such accounts shall be audited, and regulating the publication of the abstract of such accounts and the report of the auditors thereon, and prescribing the procedure in relation to any items of expenditure from the fund disallowed by the auditors;

(h) prescribing the conditions under which deduction out of royalties may be made under section 10 and the manner in which the amount of such deduction shall be determined;

(i) any other matter which is to be or may be prescribed.

Application to Crown mines.

15. This Act applies to coal mines belonging to the Crown.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Government of India have had under consideration for some time past the question inter alia of devising measures for the protection of miners against the dangers involved in the present methods of extraction in the main coalfields where a stage has been reached at which the continued extraction of the large quantities of coal standing in pillars by ordinary methods is impossible in some cases and would, in other cases, involve serious danger to those engaged in the work and the likelihood of a great wastage of coal. They accordingly appointed a committee known as the Coal Mining Committee in October, 1936, to inquire into the methods of extracting coal underground in Bengal, Bihar and the Central Provinces and to report on the measures which should be taken to secure the safety of the workers and to prevent avoidable waste of coal. The Committee have advocated the adoption of stowing, i.e., the filling with sand or other incombustible material of the space left by the extraction of coal, to start with, in areas where there is urgent and immediate danger to life or urgent danger of substantial loss of coal. The Committee have recommended that a cess of 8 annas per ton on coal, including soft coke, and 12 annas per ton on hard coke should be imposed, to be used mainly to defray the cost of stowing. The recommendations of the Committee have been examined by the Government of India in consultation with the Provincial Governments and the interests concerned. The Government of India feel that for the present at any rate the main objective of any proposals should be to secure the safety of the worker. Such proposals would incidentally result in a certain amount of conservation but safety should be the primary objective. The Bill is designed to give effect to these proposals. Notes on some of the clauses are appended.

The 4th February, 1939. ZAFRULLAH KHAN.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 3.—modifies in certain respects the constitution proposed by the Committee in paragraphs 278-283 of their report for the administrative authority recommended by them. The Committee's proposal is open to the objection that the constitution of the authority would be largely in the hands of the Chairman and that its personnel would be constantly changing.

Clause 4.—is designed to give powers to the Committee to co-opt technical experts for dealing with any technical questions of importance that may arise.

Clause 5.—The maximum rate of the excise duty proposed in the clause is considered adequate for the requirements of the scheme proposed in the Bill.

Clause 6.—follows section 6 of the Sugar (Excise Duty) Act, 1934, and is designed to implement the recommendation made by the Committee in paragraph 381 of their report.

Clause 10.—follows the recommendation of the Committee in paragraph 268 of their report. A Central tax on royalties is not constitutionally permissible. As this proposal is not free from complications, it is proposed to leave it to the Board to permit the deduction from royalties or not.

Clause 11.—Sub-clauses (1) and (2) need no comment. Sub-clause (3) is designed to enlarge the powers conferred on the Mines Inspectorate by sub-section (1A) of section 19 of the Indian Mines Act, 1923, and to implement in modified form the recommendation made by the Committee in paragraph 290 of their report.

Clauses 12 and 13.—Clause 12 is designed to extend the procedure prescribed in the Mines Act for appeals against orders passed under section 19(2) of that Act to orders passed under clause 11(3) of the Bill; the constitution of the appellate tribunal is proposed to be strengthened as in clause 13 in view of the importance of the issues involved.

The menial staff of the Garden at the end of 1937-38 comprised :—

1 Salutri.	1 Carpenter.
1 Jamadar.	2 Bhistis.
8 Durwans.	1 Cook.
20 Keepers.	2 Cartmen.
1 Head Gardener.	1 Night Watchman.
14 Gardeners.	2 Chaprasis.
3 Sweepers.	1 Syce.

1 Scytheman.

In addition temporary men were engaged as required.

His Excellency the most Hon'ble the Marquess of Linlithgow, Viceroy and Governor-General of India kindly visited the Gardens on the 28th December 1937 and evinced great interest in a number of the exhibits.

Various births amongst mammals and birds have been recorded during the year: the most important being one male Grant's zebra and two hippopotami. Three chimpanzees, one from London and two from the Edinburgh Zoo were acquired. Mr. R. N. De, I.F.S., Dhubri, kindly presented a pair of tiger cubs and the President, Zoological Society of San Diego, California, sent two Elephantine Tortoises.

The general condition of the animals was satisfactory including the large carnivora. Casualties throughout the year have been normal while the collection has been added to and improved from time to time by gifts, exchange and purchase. Many interesting births have been recorded in the Garden during the year and a large proportion of the young were reared and are thriving well.

Gardens.—The ornamental parts of the Garden such as lawns and flower beds have been improved and maintained at their usual high standard. The Garden was awarded several prizes at the Annual Flower Show of the Agri-Horticultural Society of India. Particular mention being made of their exhibit of flowering annuals.

An innovation, which was appreciated by the public, was the marking of every tree, creeper and shrub in the Gardens with its botanical and popular names.

No important constructional works were undertaken during the year under report. Repairs and alterations to existing buildings and enclosures were effected as follows:—

1. Repairs were made to the main circular road from the main gate to the Reptile house along the east and west boundary lines by spreading and consolidating "Jhama" metal with steam-rollers.

2. Boundary wall.—A portion of the compound wall opposite the Zeerut bridge had collapsed during the rains and was immediately reconstructed. Sundry petty repairs were effected and the eastern boundary wall of the Garden was colour-washed.

3. Sarnomoyi House.—Repairs to this building had become urgent and a 5″ sand and cement wall was constructed round the west, south and eastern sides.

4. Chimpanzee Enclosure.—It was found necessary to protect the animals in this enclosure from the indiscriminating attentions of the public, and a fence of interlinked wire-netting more than ten feet high and of 14 gauge English wire, has been erected round the island. Necessary petty repairs were taken in hand to strengthen the retaining wall of the island.

5. "Hermitage".—General repairs were effected in the main building including exterior and interior decorations. The outhouses were repaired and the whole building was rewired.

6. Sonebursa Enclosure.—The existing inner enclosure was subdivided and thoroughly repaired so as to provide double the number of lock up cages

7. Pheasant House.—With a view to render cage No. 21 in this house, proof against rats, a concrete floor was laid. The result, however, has not proved satisfactory.

8. Pigmy Hippos.—On the shores of the big lake and on the site of the Old Rhino Enclosure, a new enclosure was constructed of cement and brick walls topped by inter-link wire-netting. A partition was made down the centre to allow the pair to be separated.

9. Schwendler House.—A dwarf cement wall was constructed round the base.

10. Gubbay House.—The south-east corner cage in which the male Mandrill is exhibited was thoroughly repaired with cement concrete and sand-cement plaster.

11. Hospital.—A large thatched shed was erected to accommodate various newly-purchased pheasants during the hot weather.

12. Four new concrete dust bins were constructed to help the garden staff in the speedy clearance of all litter.

13. A wall surmounted with inter-link wire-netting was constructed to fill in the arch of the bridge spanning the large and ornamental lakes. It is hoped that as a result it will be possible to control the water levels of each lake and to prevent birds in the larger lake from straying elsewhere.

Financial position.—The financial condition of the Garden is satisfactory largely owing to the rigid economy which has been observed during the past few years. There was a welcome increase in the receipts from visitors, which amounted to Rs. 58,664-9 in the year under review as against Rs. 55,622-12 in the previous year. From the detailed statement of receipts and expenditure which will be found in Appendix A, it will be seen that the increase in entrance receipts amounting to Rs. 3,041-13 accounts for nearly 50 per cent. of the total increase in revenue of Rs. 6,653-4-8 over the previous year.

Visitors.—The following is comparative statement of visitors and receipts for the last four years:—

Years.		Visitors.	Receipts. Rs. a.
1934-35	..	1,011,616	65,055 0
1935-36	..	919,172	57,477 11
1936-37	..	889,099	55,622 12
1937-38	..	936,744	58,664 9

The Corporation of Calcutta.—Sanctioned a grant of Rs. 26,233-6 to the Garden for the year under report a sum equal to the amount of the rates payable to the Corporation for the same period.

The Committee desire to express their thanks to the Corporation of Calcutta for their generous contribution. In the report for the previous year reference was made to a sum of Rs. 4,328-8 as being the unadjusted balance on account of rates and taxes for the year 1934-35, the Committee are glad to state that this sum has since been restored by the Corporation and they take this opportunity of expressing their thanks to those responsible for this result.

A number of children under four years of age and many school children attended by their teachers were admitted to the Garden free. In addition 55,591 persons visited the garden on free days.

A detailed statement of the number of visitors and receipts appears in Appendix B.

The Committee wish to convey their appreciation and thanks to those members of the public as well as to members of the Garden who have contributed towards the satisfactory results achieved during the year under review.

A list of those ladies and gentlemen who have made gifts to the collection generally will be found in Appendix C. There are many offers of present of animals to the Garden, but these offers could not always be accepted either because the particular species was already sufficiently well represented, or owing to lack of accommodation.

The Committee also desire to express their thanks to the following Railway and Steamer Companies for kindly conveying animals belonging to the Garden free of charge:—

(1) British India Steam Navigation Company.

(2) East Indian Railway.

(3) Rivers Steam Navigation Company, Limited.

Once more Mr. W. K. Dods, the Vice-President of the Garden has been instrumental in procuring and presenting to the Garden a variety of birds and beasts. He has also been a generous donor of flower seeds and bulbs, and he has been responsible for providing large quantities of fresh ant's eggs which contribute materially to the well-being of the birds. The Committee record with thanks his gifts and services.

Thanks are due to the Commanding Officer of the 1/15th Punjab Regiment, stationed at Alipore, for permitting their regimental band to play at the Garden on Tuesday and Sunday afternoons and the Committee again record their indebtedness to those members of the public who sent old or broken horses to the Zoological Gardens, where they were destroyed under the most humane conditions.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Dacca, the 25th February 1939.

Second Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1938-39.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1936-37, the area under wheat in Bengal has represented some 0·4 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of the irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage in (a) British India and (b) in the territory now reported on has, in the five years ending 1936-37, averaged (a) 42·0 and (b) 9·2 per cent., respectively.)

Character of the season.—As indicated in the first forecast the weather conditions were generally helpful for field operations and commencement of sowing of the crop in normal time. Subsequently, however, drought set in and affected the growth of the crop. Insect-pests have also done some damage at places. On the whole, a fair crop is expected for the province.

Acreage.—According to the estimates of the District Officers the total area sown is 174,000 acres this year as against 160,900 acres both in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Outturn.—The average provincial outturn as worked out from the district estimates is 76 per cent. as against 83 and 80 per cents., respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

M. CARBERY,

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

APPENDIX.

Second Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1938-39.

District.	Estimated normal area under wheat crop.	Estimated area under wheat.		Estimated outturn as a percentage of the normal yield per unit of area.		Date on which the sowing of the crop was begun this year and whether that date was early, normal or late.	Remarks by District Officers.

	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
Nadia ..	29,600*	20,300	29,600	67	67	October to November.	The increase in area is due to favourable weather at the sowing time and utilization of failed areas during last flood. Some damage done to the crop by drought.
Murshidabad ..	47,100	43,700	49,300	95	80	November. Normal	The increase in area is due to the failure of bhadoi crops by high flood. Some damage has been done to the crop by drought and hence the outturn is anticipated to fall below the normal.
Jessore ..	700	300	900	67	75	Ditto ..	The increase of area, as compared with the estimate of first forecast, is due to the fact that the lands washed away by flood have been put to this and other crops. Some damage done to the crop by insect-pest. Hence the outturn is expected to fall below the normal.
Burdwan ..	1,500	1,400	1,500	92	92	Ditto ..	The weather has been seasonable.

Bankura ..	6,500	5,400	5,300	92	83	Ditto ..	The weather has been fairly favourable except in Vishnupur Circle. Some damage has been done to the crop by drought. Hence the outturn to fall below the normal.
Midnapore ..	800	600	600	67	67	October and November. Normal.	The weather has been fair. Damage has been done to the extent of about 6 annas in Jhargram subdivision on account of drought.
Hooghly ..	200	200	200	75	67	First week of November. Normal.	The weather has been fair. About 4 annas damage is expected for want of water for irrigation.
Rajshahi ..	7,800	10,500	11,800	83	75	November. Normal	The weather has not been favourable owing to want of rain. Damage to the extent of 3 annas has been done to the crop by drought.
Dinajpur ..	1,300	2,500	2,500	83	83	Ditto ..	The weather has been fairly favourable.
Jalpaiguri ..	800	700	600	92	87	Middle of November	Decrease in area is due to revision of estimate. The weather has been fairly favourable.
Darjeeling ..	2,900	3,400	3,400	100	100	November. Normal	The weather has been favourable.
Rangpur ..	3,700	3,900	3,900	95	85	Ditto ..	The weather has been unfavourable and the condition of the crop is unfair for want of rain.

Pabna ..	8,000*	7,000	8,000	83	83	Beginning of November. Normal.	The increase in area is due to the fact that the cultivators utilized more lands for wheat and other crops after their paddy was severely damaged by flood. The growth of the crop has been retarded for want of rain. Hence the outturn is expected to fall below the normal.
Malda ..	43,000	45,600	41,600	75	67	November. Normal	The weather has not been favourable owing to want of rain. Damage to the extent of 2 annas due to want of rain.

Faridpur ..	2,800	2,900	3,000	87	76	Last week of November. Normal.	Continuous drought after the sowing is likely to cause the outturn to fall below the normal.
